Principal's Message

This book is a time capsule cast on the uncharted seas of the future.

Words, events, faces and places have been sealed in it for posterity. In the future this book will provide testimony to what life at Char-Lan was like in the 20th Century. Much has been immortalized: your friends, the crowded halls, your teams, the smile of a teacher who cared, this wonderful school that has nurtured us through this past year.

Enjoy this time capsule and then tuck it away on a shelf, to be removed one day in the future when the pages of this book will revive your memories and cause you to smile whimsically at what life was like at school in the 20th Century.

And finally, to the Yearbook Committee, congratulations on a job well done. Thank you so much for your efforts on our behalf.

Heather Lacelle

Drive alone in just eight months!

Ontario has a new Graduated Licensing law.

It says new drivers have to practice for one year before trying their driving test.

But if they take the Young Drivers course first, they only have to wait eight months to drive alone, anywhere, at any time!

The same law says learners must practice for the first eight months with a licensed adult.

And if that adult is you, you're going to want Young Drivers to teach them to drive safely.

Then spend eight months practicing with confidence. It could add years to your life!

The Value of Training

The duration of an "athletic" contest is only a few minutes
While the training for it may take weeks of arduous work and continuous exercise in self-effort
The real value of sport is not the actual game played in the limelight of applause
But the hours of dogged determination and self-discipline carried out alone
imposed and supervised by an exacting conscience
The applause dies away, the prize left behind
But the character you build is yours forever

A Message to My Fellow Grads

Hi. Remember me? I'm the guy who had silver hair at Prom. I would like to wish you all the success in the future and these next few definitive years. The day when we send our own children into the world on their own is just around the corner. Remember to give them the same three pieces of advice that my father gave me:

1. Watch the road!!! You're gonna get us killed!
2. If it gets stuck pull gently instead of jerking it.
3. Jesse, what you just caught your Mother and I doing is a natural thing.

Thanks again. Love, Jesse Good.
Good luck and God speed.

Kids Make A Difference

One of Ten Runners Up in Canadian Living Magazine's
"Kids Make A Difference" Contest

In my community, there are many areas which could use help. However, the one area in which I am very interested in helping is the lack of school textbooks and various supplies. I think we could manage to raise enough money to buy new textbooks and increase our budget for school supplies through a community dance-off.

I imagine that many people would contribute to such a cause because they will want the best for their children. Teenagers will probably attend this dance-off as well because everyone loves to dance! We could have advertisers go around to the high schools to explain to the children that a dance-off is a dance party in which you see who can dance the longest throughout the night and most of all, to just have fun and help support their school.

I think that, if we charge an admission fee and sell chips, Coke and raffle tickets at the dance, we could raise sufficient funds to at least start helping our school's textbook and supply situation. If this dance-off were to be a success, I would gladly help out in organizing another community event to help raise money so that our school environment could be improved.

The Mystery of Life

Life is a mystery.
We believe in so many ideas
And so many thoughts,
Yet we are left to roam the earth,
Lost and confused.
There are rough parts
And there are simple ones.
Everyone must go through the journey,
Not sure of the direction.
There are many paths to cross
And others just to explore.
They are all there for a reason,
To create and shape our lives.
Our hearts have been broken,
Our minds have been taken over
And our souls are revealed to the unknown.
What has become of our identities?
Look deeper to a world beyond.
Through the eyes and beyond the reflection.
Look at the soul that has been revealed,
The heart that has been broken
And the mind that has taken over.
They are the simple answers
To the mystery of life.

Wind

Wind is like a spirit
Floating all around,
Tiptoeing and creeping.
Making not a sound.

Air is like a shadow,
Filling in the sky,
Flowing into caverns,
Unreachable by the eye.

Wind is like a fine dancer
Light, flexible, and hollow,
Dancing where she wants,
With nobody to follow.

Air is her admirer,
Watching from afar,
Marching to it's own beat,
Wishing on it's own star.

When the two first meet,
And touch for the first time,
Their limbs begin to touch,
And their souls to entwine.

Soon they are together,
Floating both as one,
Singing through the trees,
And dancing near the sun.

A Char-Lan Pep Squad Song

Rin-Tin-Tin
What's this we have here?
Is it a butcher?
A baker?
A candlestick maker?
It's a meatbox,
A breadbox
A candle ... box?
Rah, Rah, Rah!
Go Char-Lan!

My Grandmother's Past Holds the Key to My Confident Future

Winner of the Grade Nine Prose/Poetry Category of the Marion Drysdale Awards

In my past as well as in the present, there is one person who has taught me many things so that I am now confident of my future. Her name is Rita Beaupre: she is my beloved grandmother. She has enlightened me about the importance of family, of education and of God. Through her, I've learnt so much. Every time I see her, she teaches me something new and different. During the "Ice Storm" she informed me about her life as a child. My grandmother is not only my mentor but my hero; she's always willing to help others and also sets a good example to others. When I need her help solving problems, she's always very attentive and offers me the best advice she can.

According to my grandmother, the second important thing in life is education. She's always encouraging me to do my best and to strive for my goals. She often tells me about her experiences when she was going to school. It was much more difficult for her. She walked three kilometers to school everyday, even in the winter. When she arrived home from school, she had to finish her homework and complete her chores on the farm. Due to having a large family, she didn't get to finish her education. She often expresses her disappointment at not attending high school and college. The opportunity never presented itself. I realize, from her past, to take advantage of the chance I have and to continue my education. This gives me confidence to achieve my goals. Her past experiences have shown me that if I quit school, my goal of becoming a surgeon will vanish.

As a result of all these cherished lessons, I have learned many essential values. It's extremely important to work together as family, a community, a village. To respect, to forgive and to love also contribute to a happy family. Past hardships such as the "Ice Storm" and lessons of religion provide strength and courage for the future. Pursuing education also helps to achieve our future goals. My grandmother has taught me all of these morals that will help me in my future. I am confident of our future, that is mine and my grandmother's, because she is always there to help me overcome my obstacles and reach my goals. I know she will always guide me, either through her presence or in spirit. I know my grandmother will always be there to help me and I will always be there to help her. This is why I am so confident of our future.

Renee Beaupre

Believe In Yourself

Sometimes we want all the answers,
And sometimes we just need the questions.
Believing there are answers,
Creates the questions to stretch our minds.
Opening our hearts,
To the beauty of the world.
It helps us understand
Who we really are, or are meant to be.
Emotions can take over our bodies,
Revealing our true selves
To those who love us,
Unconditionally.
Our souls can be seen
Through the eyes of the blind,
To those who not only believe in the truth
But trust itself.
Trust is not about love
Or understanding.
It's about both,
And believing in yourself.
S.G.

Creed for the New Millennium

Let me be a little kinder, let me be a little blinder
To the faults of those about me, let me praise a little more:
Let me be, when I am weary, just a little bit more cheery.
Let me serve a little better those that I am striving for,
Let me strive a little harder to be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker with the brother that is weaker;
Let me think more of my neighbour and a little less of me.

In homeroom groups we explored various topics such as "Settling Into the Char-Lan Routine," and "The Jokes Over" (Sexual Harrassment). We also organized and ran a successful grade eight Open House program in February. Ten peer helpers worked at the Bike Rodeo sponsored by the Lancaster Optimist Club. Our contribution to Food Day was Cappuccino.

Outdoor - Ed

Despite difficulties that confronted them during the first semester, Mme Leblanc's Outdoor-Ed class managed to pull together two outdoor adventures. In the fall, a hiking trip to Algonquin Park was planned. The students and their 2 leaders trekked for 3 days around the short loop of the Highland Hiking Trail covering a distance of about 20 km. The result was one or two aching muscles and a great sense of accomplishment.

"No chemicals, honest???"

"No guts...no glory!!"

The Nor'westers

Consisting mostly of senior students, the Nor'westers compliment the Outdoor-Ed Program and is for those who want to test their skills of endurance. This year, despite a dismal first semester, the club was able to have a spring trip to the Adirondaks where they hiked to up the second highest peak in the range. The first day, they set up a base camp at Marcy Dam and the second day made the 9-10 hour climb up the mountain. (approx. 10 miles with an elevation of 5143 ft.) Is it Mount Everest next year?

"Whaddya mean we have to climb down too???"

"Air-conditioned comfort..."

"It's a rough life..."

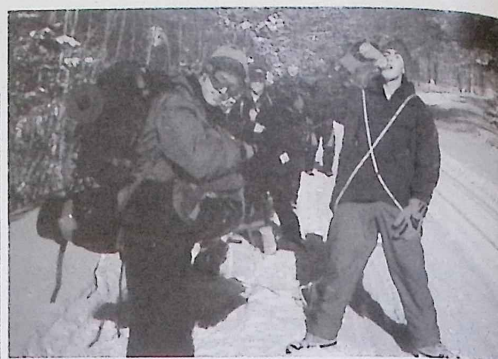

"What... no take-out??"

In the early summer, the Nor'westers tested their prowess on a canoe trip at Frontenac Provincial Park north of Kingston. Once again, they were out in the wilds for 3 days and 2 nights. They covered a distance of about 24 km. by canoe and portaged 10 km on foot. Yet again another success story!

"Best Dressed Nor'wester '99"

"It's -36°..... my water froze!!"

The winter hike, however, proved to be more memorable because the temperature was -36°. The only heat generated was by the students' bodies as they vigorously snowshoed and built snow huts or "quinzees". The finale of the 3 day exercise was a skate on the Rideau Canal. Brrr. All in all, a great trip to practice their Canadian winter survival skills.

"Home sweet quinzee home!"

TROPICAL PARADISE

As if in some sort of mystical trance the students of Char-Lan and their guests flocked to the Cornwall Golf and Country Club in search of a Tropical Paradise where Prom 1999 was to be held.
Of course, the Yearbook
Papazzis were cleverly hidden in discreet corners to photograph their young prey who were bedecked in glamorous gowns and tuxes.
It was to be an evening for wine, excitement and "Break
Dancin' Jean", "The Silver
Fox Jesse", and "Marilyn Monroe Esdale".

The Prom Committee had outdone themselves. Thanks to the assistance of Mrs.
Lacelle and Mrs. Doyle the country club was transformed into a Fantasy Island theme park. The weather even cooperated and gave an exceptional performance worthy of an Oscar award. In fact, as the honored guests got out of their limos there might as well have been a red carpet to greet them as they entered the premises. To most of them, it was as close to the Academy Awards as they'll ever get.

Everyone was greeted at the door where Melissa, dressed as a hula dancer (minus the coconuts), draped a lei around each person's neck. As far as we know she did not strangle anyone but rumour had it that a few of the more daring male guests did try to get a peek at what was under her grass skirt. In the meantime,...the rest of the glamorous group gathered out on the patio for cocktails. Joey, with his turquoise hair, posed in the limelight with Lindsay as they polished off thier non-alcoholic drinks. (Ha!...At least it looked like unlaced fruit punch!) Finally, after checking each other out, people began to line up for the buffet. In the salad lines, the contenders got a little rowdy as you can see Scott working his magic to get ahead of Adele. At the same time Peter attempted and failed to muscle in front of Kristen because she threatened to crack her plate over his head if he did.

There was plenty of food for everyone, but as the old saying goes, "You can dress 'em up but you can't take 'em out!" Look at Steve and Jamie fighting it out doggie-style for the last (?) roll on their table. Everyone found this quite amusing except the waitress who had a pitcher full of water to throw on them in case someone was bitten. In general, it was a delightful evening and the party grew crazier as the night progressed. Unfortunately for Derek, the date he brought had a severe reaction to the leis. Several people commented on her need for a shave. Yes, indeed, it was a night beyond all expectations. Former students came out of the woodwork. It was nice to see Melissa and Jason who decided to grace us with their presence after a couple of semesters away. No fun out in the workin' world, is it?

And so like every other theme park, it came time to end the merry-making and get on with the real world...that is if you consider post-prom parties the real world. Some just went home to sleep. Tropical Paradise Prom 1999 was over but not soon to be forgotten.

Class of 1999

Graduation '99 took place in the high school gymnasium on Tuesday, June 29th, for the first time in many years due to the fact that there were over eighty graduates. The School Council, under the supervision of Mrs. Nancy Jackson with help from Marlin Orchards, did a wonderful job of transforming the hallways and the gym into a Glengarran country garden. Along the way in, teachers had hand written notes of encouragement, including some of their own favourite memories of the past years. Some pictures were taken before the ceremony began. It was a bittersweet moment for the Grads before they were piped into the gymnasium to graduate from Char-Lan. Although stifling hot, everything went smoothly. Afterwards, light refreshments were served; thanks to Mrs. Thelma Dupuis and her helpers. The "Class of '99" then went on their way to begin the next chapter of their lives.

The guys just wanted to hang around the halls for one last time....

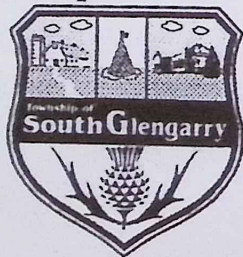

One final pose at the front door of Char-Lan for old times' sake.

"We must welcome the future, remembering that soon it will be the past; and we must respect the past, knowing that once it was all that was humanly possible."

Thanks to the Gr.9 girls who handed out programs to guests.

Chris Reasbeck piped the "Class of '99" into the gymnasium.

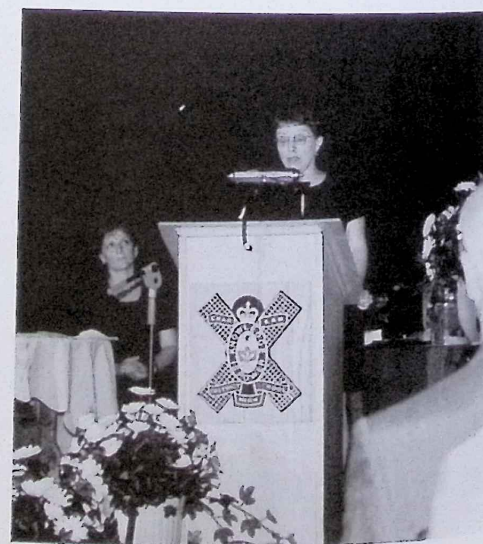

The Grads were ushered to their seats as families took photos. At their seats, the Grads waited patiently for what was to follow.

Mr. Len Siwik was the Master of Ceremonies.

*Think of yourself threshold of unparalleled success.

A whole clear, glorious life
lies before you.
Achieve! Achieve!*
-Andrew Carnegie

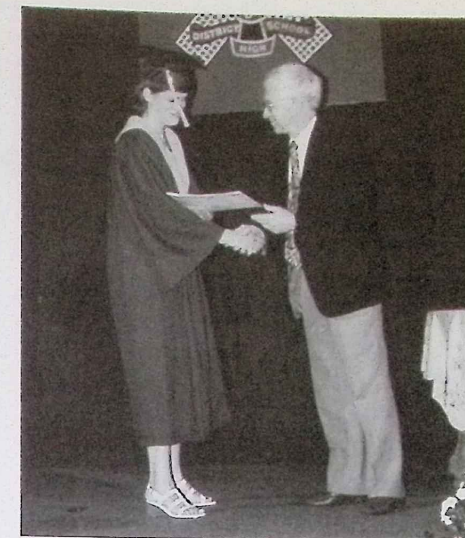

Mrs. Heather Lacelle addressed the Grads with her Principal's Message.

The Graduates receive their High School Diplomas and Certificates by two's.

*In this life we get only those things for which we hunt, for which we strive, and for which we are willing to sacrifice.
It is better to aim for something that you want even though you miss it than to get something that you didn't aim to get,
and which you don't want!
If we look long enough for what we want in life we are almost sure to find it, no matter what that objective may be.*
-George Matthew Adams

Many special awards are handed out to deserving Char-Lan Graduates.

Kirsten Charbonneau receives Birk's Bronze Medal for Proficiency from Mr. John Beveridge.

Over one hundred awards, bursaries, scholarships, medals and gifts were presented to deserving students. Please understand that it would be impossible to list every one of them. These graduates are a group of gifted young people whose families and community continue to support and encourage. Thank you to all the presenters. Although not all graduates received awards, every single one of you is a winner in his or her own right. Congratulations to each one of you because you are "The Char-Lan District High School Graduates of 1999".

Mrs. Heather Lacelle presents Katie McIntosh with both the Governor General's Award and Principal's Award.

Valedictorian Address

By: Katie McIntosh

It's hard to believe that five years have already come and gone. I remember as if it were yesterday we were walking into Char-Lan trying to find our classrooms and getting to know our teachers. Now we are the people who are giving directions and being looked up to. It's unbelievable how quickly time flies. I have often heard that the best times of your life are in high school, but I believe that they are the beginning of much happiness yet to come. For the past five years these two hallways have been one of the only solid thing in our lives. We have been here in good times and in bad. We may have entered high school as children, but we are leaving as adults.

First, to our parents, thank you. You have been there for us. You have listened to us laugh, listened to us cry, and you have taught us everything we needed to know. We will always love you, respect you, and value you because of that. But the time has come for us to test our wings. You've done all that you can do; now you have to trust our judgement. We might not always make the right decisions, but we will learn from our mistakes and try again. We need you to be there for us, to listen to us.

To our principals, teachers, and other Char-Lan support staff, thank you. You have done more than just teach us; you have been our friends and treated us as equals. You have brought us to where we are today. We will always remember you each for something different. Your unique personalities and styles have provided us with much humour, wisdom and insight. We will be forever grateful to all of you for your personal contributions to our education and our lives. I also wish all the best to Mr. Grant, Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. Siwik, Miss Billyk and Mrs. Green who, like us, are graduating this year; that is, they are retiring from teaching.

Finally, Graduates, there were times when I wasn't sure if this year was going to end, but, we made it!! We were faced with one obstacle after another, yet we managed to overcome them all. In these past five years we have experienced the most dramatic change that will ever occur in our lives and we have survived. At Char-Lan we've made friends who have seen us through the laughter and the tears, friends who will forever be embedded in our minds. The size of Char-Lan made it easy for us to get to know one another, but it also makes it harder to leave. However, we have enough memories to last a lifetime. We will never forget Corey's numerous yearbook fundraisers, Joey's hair colour of the week, Jean's break dancing, and Fowler's voice echoing in the hall. For these past five years we have been headed down the same path, avoiding the distant fork in the road. But now we've reach the point where we will be going off in our own directions. The 85 of us graduating here tonight have chosen 53 different locations, which will start us on our road to success. We are the doctors, teachers, artists, and officers of the future. I wish each and every one of you the best of luck. I have faith in you. Always remember the words of this famous song:

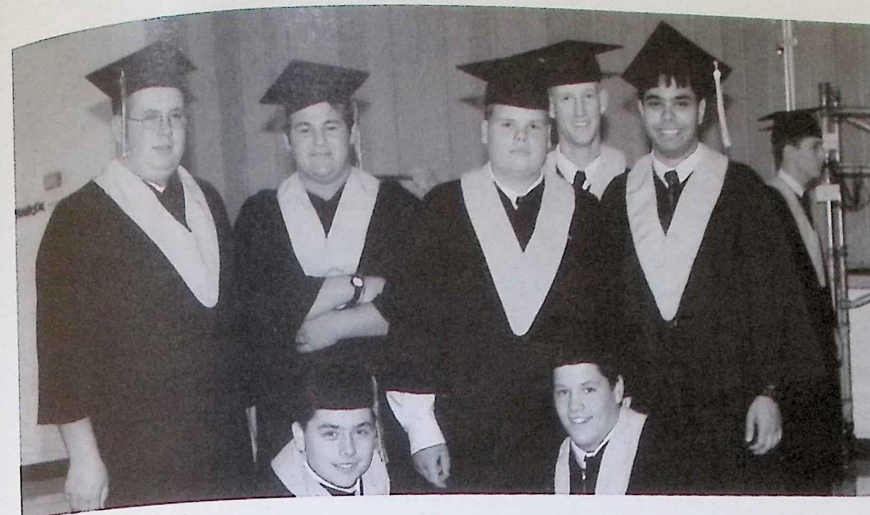

"Another turning point, a fork stuck in the road,
Time grabs you by the wrist, directs you where to go,
So make the best of this test, and don't ask why.
It's not a question, but a lesson learned in time.

So take the photographs and still frames in your mind,
Hang it on a shelf of good health and good time,
Jatoos of memories and dead skin on trial,
For what it's worth, it was worth all the while.

It's something unpredictable,
But in the end it's right,
I hope you had the time of your life."

To the Class of '99

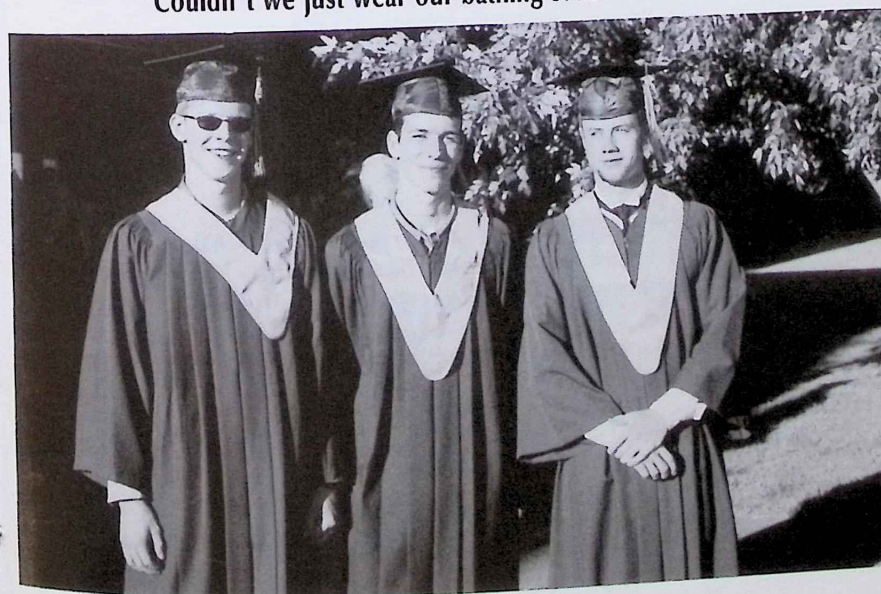

Love,
Katie McIntosh

"Never thought we'd see the day..."

"Couldn't we just wear our bathing suits?"

"We may look like graduates, but we're really illegal immigrants from the planet Guam."

"I learned this,
at least, by my experiment:
that if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams,
and endeavors to live
the life which he has imagined,
he will meet with a success
unexpected
in common hours."

The Sunscreen Song

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Class of '99:

Wear sunscreen.

If I could offer you only one tip for the future, sunscreen would be it. The long-term benefits of sunscreen have been proved by scientists, whereas the rest of my advice has no basis more reliable than my own meandering experience. I will dispense this advice now.

Enjoy the power and beauty of your youth. Oh, never mind. You will not understand the power and beauty of youth until they've faded. But trust me, in 20 years, you'll look back at photos of yourself and recall in a way you can't grasp now how fabulous you really looked. You are not as fat as you imagine.

Don't worry about the future. Or worry, but know that worrying is as effective as trying to solve an algebra equation by chewing bubble gum. The real troubles in your life are apt to be things that never crossed your worried mind, the kind that blindside you at 4 p.m. on some idle Tuesday.

Do one thing every day that scares you.

Sing.

Don't be reckless with other people's hearts. Don't put up with people who are reckless with yours.

Floss.

Don't waste your time on jealousy. Sometimes you're ahead, sometimes you're behind. The race is long, and in the end, it's only with yourself.

Remember compliments you receive. Forget the insults. If you succeed in doing this, tell me how.

Keep your old love letters. Throw away your old bank statements.

Stretch.

Don't feel guilty if you don't know what you want to do with your life. The most interesting people I know didn't know at 22 what they wanted to do with their lives. Some of the most interesting 40-year-olds still don't.

Get plenty of calcium. Be kind to your knees. You'll miss them when they're gone.

Maybe you'll marry, maybe you won't. Maybe you'll have children, maybe you won't. Maybe you'll divorce at 40, maybe you'll dance the funky chicken on your 75th wedding anniversary.

*Actual name of the song: "Everybody's Free to Wear Sunscreen" By: Something For Everybody

Whatever you do, don't congratulate yourself too much, or berate yourself either. Your choices are half chance. So are everybody else's.

Enjoy your body. Use it every way you can. Don't be afraid of it or what other people think of it. It's the greatest instrument you'll ever own.

Dance, even if you have nowhere to do it but your living room.

Read the directions, even if you don't follow them.

Do not read beauty magazines. They will only make you feel ugly.

Get to know your parents. You never know when they'll be gone for good. Be nice to your siblings. They're the best link to your past and the people most likely to stick with you in the future.

Understand that friends will come and go, but with a precious few you should hold on. Work hard to bridge gaps in geography and lifestyle, because the older you get, the more you need the people who knew you when you were young.

Live in New York once, but leave before it makes you hard. Live in Northern California once, but leave before it makes you soft. Travel.

Accept certain inalienable truths: Prices will rise. Politicians will philander. You, too, will get old. And when you do, you'll fantasize that when you were young, prices were reasonable, politicians were noble, and children respected their elders.

Respect your elders.

Don't expect anyone else to support you. Maybe you have a trust fund. Maybe you'll have a wealthy spouse. But you never know when either one might run out.

Don't mess too much with your hair or by the time you're 40 it will look 85.

Be careful whose advice you buy, but be patient with those who supply it. Advice is a form of nostalgia. Dispensing it is a way of fishing it out of the disposal, wiping it off, painting over the ugly parts and recycling it for more than it's worth.

...But trust me on the sunscreen.
