"Little Me" was created by Meghan Button

This relaxing image of a hippopotamus lounging in a pond was created by Amy Moore.

"Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, feel them, and try to follow where they lead."

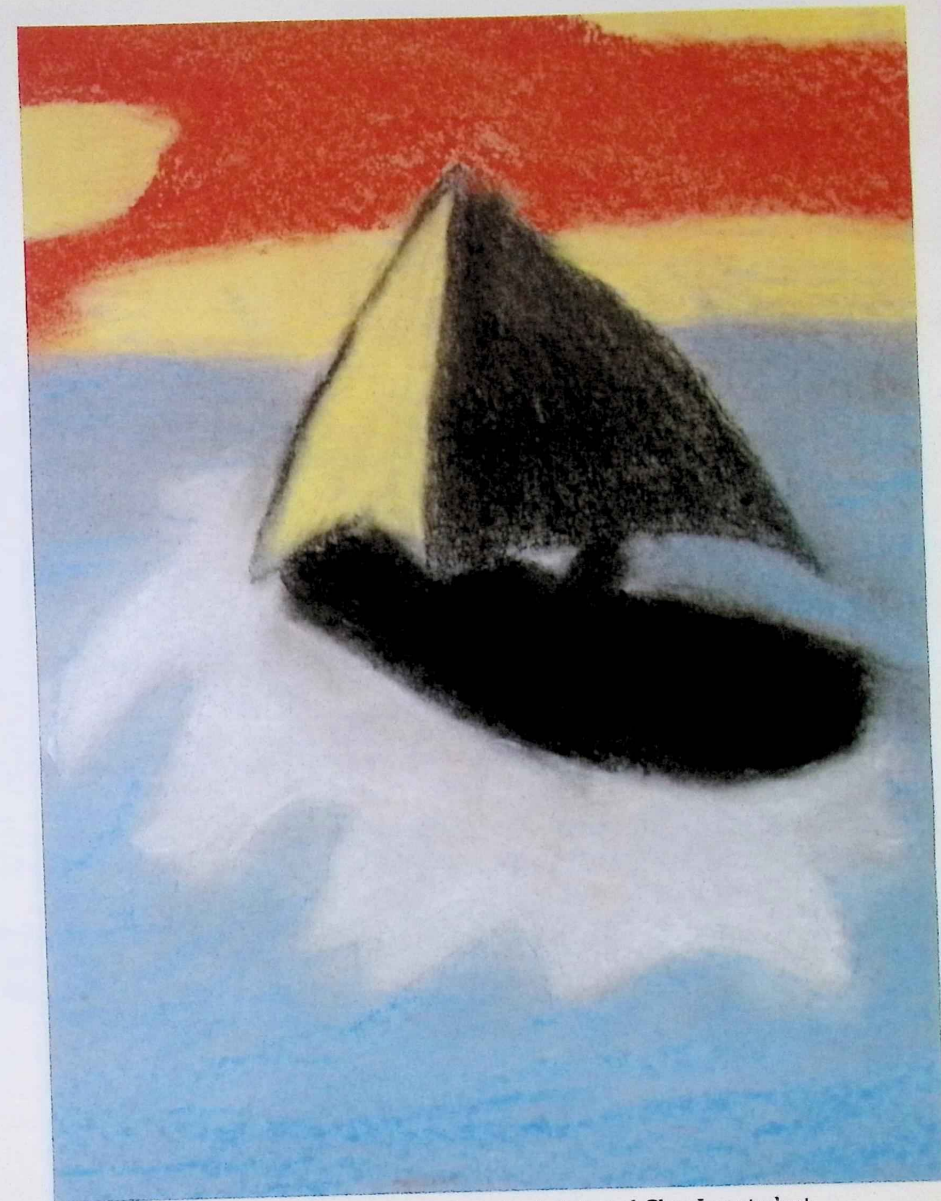

Louisa May Alcott

This mural was created to inspire the students who roam the halls of Char-Lan. Congratulations to Miss Daigle's art students!

Miss Daigle found a vast improvement in her students after assigning this art project!

This sail boat was created by an unknown but clearly talented Char-Lan student.

"If a person has a talent and cannot use it, he has failed. If he has a talent and uses only half of it, he has partly failed. If he has a talent and learns somehow to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won a satisfaction and a triumph few people ever know."

Thomas Wolfe

"My mother said to me, 'If you become a soldier, you'll be a general, if you become a monk you'll end up as the pope.' Instead, I became a painter and wound up as Picasso."

Another school year has passed and yet another phenomenal yearbook has been created by a group of very talented and dedicated students. They have worked for months to ensure that this book would be a permanent reminder of the people and events that made 1999-2000 school year so memorable.

Our teams did not win all of their games but they were excellent ambassadors of our school. Our clubs offered a wide range of experiences for a variety of student interests. Our band went to Disney World, the choir sounded like angels at the Christmas Concert and our Improv team represented us with gusto in competition with much larger schools.

All of this and much more has been captured between the covers of this book. Enjoy it now and then tuck it away in a safe place. Years from now you will no doubt have occasion to take it from the shelf and reminisce over the school year that was 1999-2000.

Thanks again to those who made possible this collection of memories.

The Supportive Staff

Gilles Lortie

Our wonderful support staff has helped us through out the year with their constant counselling and their readiness to help when it is needed. Always available to lend an ear or to fill that container to the brim with sauce, whatever the need is. No job too small or too large. We thank you support staff, for all the help you have given us and all the help that is yet to come.

President's Message

Serving as Student Council President this year brought some moments of self-doubt, but although it has been challenging, it has been a great experience overall.

Fortunately, we made it through the year without any major catastrophes (i.e. ice storms or strikes) and our clubs and teams made Char-Lan proud for another year. Carnival Week was awesome, Christmas activities were great, and the 30 Hour Famine was a success once again. I am sure this Yearbook will be exceptional, since the staff have been working long hours to make it the most memorable yet. Thanks to all of the teachers who gave their time and effort to help out with all the extracurricular activities.

I would also like to thank our three great secretaries, Christine, Sharon and Cathy for all the work they did for us. We couldn't have done it without your superior organization skills!!

We welcomed some new staff members and will be saying goodbye to others. I would like to wish Mrs. Lacelle and Mr. Hunter all the best in their retirement. You deserve it!

Finally, this year would never have been successful without Angie, Melissa, Katie, Mr. Trasuk and Mr. Hunter. Thanks to Mr. Hunter and Mr. Trasuk for all their advice and help throughout the year, and to Melissa and Katie for their hard work. A special thank-you to Vice President Angie Allaire, my right hand woman!!!!

I trust that this Yearbook will bring back many fond memories in the years to come for all of us who welcomed the new millenium at Char-Lan.

Editor's Message

What can I say about the Crusader 2000 Yearbook? Perhaps I could write about how it is stuffed with memories we will cherish for the rest of our lives, or how it represents the start of a new era for our civilization (dare we say the word "millenium"??) Instead, I would like to say how incredibly proud I am of this yearbook and of all the awesome individuals who dedicated themselves to making it the best that it could be! A special thank-you goes to Photography Editor Lisa Campeau, who spent many hours organizing the necessary photo shoots, Candice Bougie for her dedication during her spare time, Mrs. Wickware for all her emotional support (Good Luck!), and also to Mr. Baitz for all his hard work, and for allowing us to be as creative as we could possibly be!! Last but not least, the Crusader 2000 would have been a complete bust if it weren't for you, the amazingly beautiful Char-Lan students, who allowed us to take your pictures over and over (and over...and over...) again!!

Enjoy Your Yearbook!

Each friend represents a world in us, a world possibly not born until they arrive and it is only by this meeting that a new world is born in us.

-Anais Nin

I believe that a true friend is always there for you.

Friends make your heart smile.

A friend who has nothing yet gives everything is truly a friend to be valued.

One who looks for a friend without faults will have none.

-Hasidic Saying

A friend is someone who knows all about you, but loves you anyways.

Friends create your most valuable memories.

Hold a true friend with both hands.

-Nigerian Proverb

Life without a friend is death without a witness.

-Spanish Proverb

A real friend is one who walks in when the rest of the world walks out.

-Walter Winchell

Love is like the wild rose-briar; Friendship like the holly-tree. The holly is dark when the rose-briar blooms, but which will bloom most constantly?

-Emily Bronte

Friendship is unnecessary, like philosophy, like art....It has no survival value; Rather it is one of those things that give value to survival.

-C.S. Lewis

Friendship is like honey, but don't eat it all.

-Moroccan Proverb

The best mirror is an old friend.

There is only one thing that is better than making a new friend, and that is keeping and old one.

-Elmer G. Leterman

Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together.

-Woodrow Wilson

A friend is someone you can do nothing with, and enjoy it.

-The Optimist

There is nothing on this earth more to be prized than true friendship.

-Saint Thomas Aquinas

Wishing to be friends is quick work, but friendship is a slow-ripening fruit.

-Aristotle

Wear a smile and have friends; wear a scowl and have wrinkles.

-George Eliot

You win the victory when you yield to friends.

-Sophocles

It is better to try and fail, than fail to try.

From the beginning of life to end, love is the only emotion that matters.

The best way to make your dreams come true, is to wake up.

-Paul Valery

Success is getting up just one more time than you fall down.

When one door is shut, another opens.

-Miquel De Cervantes

Live each day as if your life had just begun.

-J. W. Von Goethe

All things are possible, to him that believes.

-Mark 9:23

The game isn't over till it's over.

-Yogi Berra

My interest is in the future because I am going to spend the rest of my life there.

-Charles F. Kettering

Character is what you know you are, not what others think you are.

Remember that the more you know, the less you fear.

A person is only as strong as their mind.

Kindness is in our power even when fondness is not.

-Samuel Johnson

When you lose, don't lose the lesson.

Every person that you meet knows something you don't; learn from them.

You have to believe in happiness or happiness never comes.

-Douglas Malloch

The first rule for imagination is that there are no rules.

What you think means more than anything else in your life.

-George M. Adams

A mind is like a parachute, it only works when it is opened.

Every man is free to rise as far as he's able or willing, but the degree to which he thinks determines the degree to which he will rise.

-Ayn Rand

Your imagination has much to do with your life... It is for you to decide how you want your imagination to serve you.

-Philip Conley

Optimism is the faith that leads to achievement. Nothing can be done without hope and confidence.

-Helen Keller

We are what we pretend to be, so we must be careful about what we pretend to be.

-Kurt Vonnegut

Resist telling people how something should be done. Instead, tell them what needs to be done. They will often surprise you with creative solutions.

Accept the fact that regardless of how many times you are right, you will sometimes be wrong.

When love and skill work together expect a masterpiece.

-John Ruskin

The only place where success comes before work is in a dictionary.

-Vidal Sassoon

If you are going to lead people, you have to know where they are going.

We must welcome the future, remembering that soon it will be the past; and we must respect the past, knowing that once it was all that was humanly possible.

-George Santayana

Never sell your teddy bear, letter sweater, or high school year book at a garage sale. You'll regret it later.

Never deprive someone of hope; it might be all that they have.

Choose a job you love, and you will never have to work a day in your life.

-Confucius

Never ask a barber if you need a haircut.

The highest courage is to dare to appear to be what one is.

-John L. Spalding

If you think you can, you can. And if you think you can't you're right.

Where there is a hill to climb, don't think that waiting will make it smaller.

Spend your life lifting people up not putting people down.

The apples on the other side of the wall are the sweetest.

Acorns were good till bread was found.

Great and small suffer from the same mishaps.

-Blaise Pascal

I murmured because I had no shoes, until I met a man with no feet.

-Persian proverb

I can count the number of dates I've had on one hand. I wish that guys would approach me, but they don't.

-LaToya Jackson

Jealousy is all the fun you think they had.

-Erica Jong

Remember that what's always right isn't always popular, and what's popular isn't always right.

I Believe ... In Self-Expression

TYLENOL

A Haiku by Lem

Text book and chalk boards
The things that have made our years
All that they could be.

I Believe That We Are the Future

Each and every one of us has a goal in life that we wish to accomplish, and in fulfilling that goal we build the future. A future in which we have the power to shape and mold this beautiful world, where we decide the destiny of all that surrounds us. The world today does not have to be the world tomorrow. We are the ones who decide. Each goal that is achieved is another stepping stone in the way of life. Even if we don't succeed in grasping our goal the first time, we can try and try again. The future is ours and no one else's. We decide the outcome. We have the choice to sit on the sidelines and watch the future be shaped by others. We can do our part, no matter how small, in ensuring the world is as we desire it to be. I believe that we have the power and we are the decision makers. I believe that WE ARE THE FUTURE!!

Josh Van Noy

A Poem

It's a funny thing - those bonds of friendship.
They are not heritage and they are regardless of time.
They are entwined in the arms of the another's soul.
This is where these bonds spread their roots,
They grow and expand
Until they envelop the other's heart as well.
Once they are formed they can never be torn apart
After the separation of the two kindred spirits
Those roots are still there.
They may lie in silent wait for the other's return
But they never fade away
They simply wait until the day they can once again
Be with the one they love.

Melanie Royce

Mr. Tylenol's fortune probably puts Bill Gates to shame, but he is smart enough to keep quiet about it. His success is dependent upon his profile. If his name was well known in medicine, people might think twice about the little ever-present bottle in every bathroom cabinet in America.

The truth about Tylenol is that no one knows what it is, and no one seems to care. Towards the bottle of Tylenol has been cleverly built up over the years by arrows that never point up, child-proof mechanisms that challenge the highest of IQs, and a mysterious piece of cotton whose purpose eludes even the people who put it there. We don't understand it, therefore, it must be scientific.

However, for all we know, Tylenol might be the biggest hoax in the world. They might be tablets of sugar, pocket lint, moon dust, or ground up baby teeth. What if Tylenols are a deceiving recycling program like hot dogs and tofu?

The trouble is that people enjoy taking Tylenol. It has become a comforting habit, nothing else. It is taken for headaches, tumours, troubles, fever, various pains, broken hearts, phobias, general feelings of malaise, or just for lack of anything better to do.

It's too bad that Tylenol has become so popular; after all, it is supposedly a drug and no one should mess around with those. Excessive use of Tylenols could be responsible for male pattern baldness, bunions, eye twitching, or beer belly. No one knows what Tylenol is really for, but it rarely stops anyone from downing 2 tablets a half a bottle of Evian.

I personally feel that Tylenol is just a harmless placebo that gives people peace of mind when they are sick. Of course, it does nothing to improve their health, but in the end, if it makes them feel better, then I guess it does its job one way or another.

Manure In The Wind

I walk down the street on a starry night;
The moon is shining; the cows are mooing;
A strong scent of manure fills the air.
I listen to the soft sound of the wind;
What is it I hear? What is it I feel?
It's nature. The way it is supposed to be.

Jonathan Wright

My Creed

would be true, for there are those that trust me;
I would be pure, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave; for there is much to dare.
I would be friend of all - the poor - the friendless;
I would be giving and forget the gift;
I would be humble, for I know my weakness;
I would look up - and laugh - and love - and lift.

Where Would I Be Without Freedom?

Winner of the Optimist Club Regional Competition

Without freedom I would be exactly where I am now. Before arriving here, I knew what freedom was. My family and I lived however we pleased. Or country was so beautiful and peaceful, we had plenty of food to eat and water to drink. Life was so carefree. Then they arrived.

I will always remember the day they came for us. They chased my family and I into the woods trying to bring us to their horrible place. Suddenly something hit me and I fell. When I came to, I was in a truck with others who had been captured, being driven away from my home. The men driving the truck were joking and laughing in a language I've never heard before. Those of us in the back were afraid and wondering what would happen next. Our journey lasted many days and we never had food or water. All I could think about was how my family was doing. I was relieved they escaped this fate. We finally stopped, and the men unloaded us from the truck. That was the last time I would see my own kind.

I was taken into another truck alone. This journey wasn't quite as long, but I was weakening from starvation. The only water I'd been given was so filthy it was undrinkable. Where were these people taking me? Why did they rip me away from my home and family?

When the truck stopped this time, I was taken out and restrained so that I wouldn't escape. More people who spoke that weird language came, and they took me to this little room surrounded by bars. They locked me in this room and I had to sleep on the cold cement floor. I was given food once a day, which was pushed through the bars. It was disgusting but I was so hungry that I ate it anyway. The food was nothing like what I ate at home. When was I going home anyway? I missed my family.

The worst part about the place I'm in is the way people walk by and point at me! Everyone speaks the same strange language and seems so amused seeing me trapped in front of them. The days pass so slowly in this horrible place. All I have is cement and bars. I miss the plants and long grass I used to sink my toes into at home. The nights are even worse, sleeping on cold hard cement. I may even be getting sick. If I could only learn the language of these people and speak to them, I would ask one question. "Why did you take me away from everything I love?...Why?"

Freedom is something I once had. I didn't realize it until now. I am a Siberian Tiger, I live in a zoo, and my only chance at ever being free again is death.

The year 2000 gave birth to Char-Lan's first ever Debating Club. The club competed in two major tournaments: the St. Lawrence High School Invitational Tournament and the Cornwall Public Library Tournament. The Debating Club became proficient using two different styles: Parliamentary Style and Impromptu debating. Topics ranged from serious subjects like "Canada adopting a common currency with the United States," to fun topics such as "should Pikachu be abolished from Pokemon?" If you seek a "heated argument" with some contact one of Char-Lan's Debating Team members!

OSAID Car Wash

The OSAID car wash was a great success, raising over three hundred dollars. With that good looking group of girls, who wouldn't want to get their car washed?

The money raised by the car wash was put to good use by raising awareness of the results of drinking and driving through seminars and assemblies. Some of the money was also used to provide quarters for from night, which were put to good use.

Outdoor Ed

It's not just the bears you have to beware of.

The Outdoor Ed class of 2000, roughing it in a parking lot of a million dollar cottage.

The rewarding view at 6:00 a.m.

Jena enjoying her lunch.

Two peas in a pod.

Get your hand out of that pot, Terri.

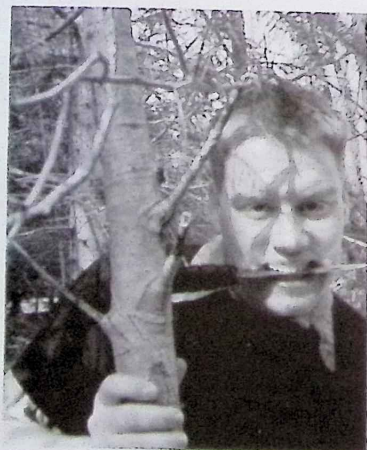

Calla gettin' dirty.

Kaylee "hang'n" tough.

If they only knew...

Did you check if that knife was sanitized?

Gap ad in the forest.

Hurry up and take the picture, I need to faint.

In due time, in due time, we will get back at you Miss Lebb.

Billy-always smiling.

Char-Lan runners take 20th at OFSSA

By GREG PEERENBOOM
News Reporter

The placings might not seem impressive, but the Char-Lan senior girls' cross country running team was more than competitive at the OFSSA championships held Saturday in Toronto.

Crusaders' Liz and Kelly Rankin, Vera and Margaret Cumming and Calla Humphries took about 20th overall among all competing high schools in Ontario.

In a field of about 250 runners, the team finished individually between 60 and 90, said coach Don Blackadder.

Official team and individual placements were not available as of Tuesday.

Blackadder said this kind of first time result should lead to even better results next year.

Three of the girls will be back next year for the 2000 season. The team will also use their cross-country experience to build on an already successful 4x400 metre relay team, which qualified for the Ontario Federation of Schools Scholastic Association 1999.

"We're going to take a couple of weeks off and then start training for track," Blackadder said.

Drive alone in just eight months!

Ontario has a new Graduated Licensing law.

It says new drivers have to practice for one year before trying their driving test.

But if they take the Young Drivers course first, they only have to wait eight months to drive alone, anywhere, at any time!

The same law says learners must practice for the first eight months with a licensed adult.

And if that adult is you, you're going to want Young Drivers to teach them to drive safely.

Then spend eight months practicing with confidence.

It could add years to your life!

Boys' Teams Spirited throughout Season

The Crusader Boys' volleyball team had a rough season on the court, but remained a coachable and spirited team throughout the season.

This was a rebuilding year for the volleyball program and these boys helped us to get off to a good start.

Thanks for the season.

The Char-Lan Elementary Basketball League successfully completed its first season of play. Sixteen Char-Lan students volunteered their Tuesday nights from February through April as coaches, referees, and timekeepers to enable 48 elementary students the opportunity to improve their skills and meet future classmates from other schools.

The league was comprised of three girls' teams and three boys' teams of eight players each. Grade Seven and Eight students from six different schools registered and were evenly distributed between teams. Judging from player and parent response, the league should expand to eight teams next season. Special praise goes out to the volunteers, especially this year's midget girls basketball team. Without their generous help the league could not function.

Larkin makes provincial team

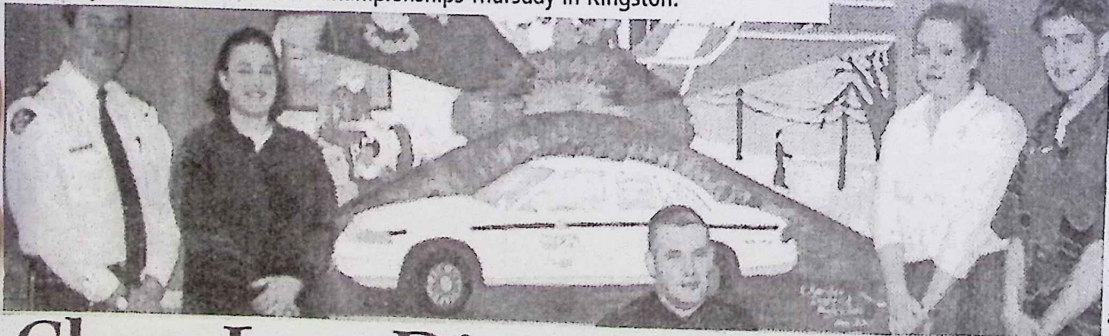

Aiming for the top

Char-Lan junior girls won the semi-final game in basketball against the Rothwell-Osnabruk Lancers on Nov. 16. They continued their winning streak until the following Thursday to win the SDG finals.

STRONGEST COMPONENT The senior girls team is possibly the strongest component of the Char-Lan Crusaders cross-country running team. In front, from left, are Liz and Kelly Rankin. In back are Vera Cumming, Calla Humphries and Margaret Cumming. The 27-member Crusaders team will represent Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry at the eastern Ontario championships Thursday in Kingston.

TORONTO - The District High School girls cross-country team as well as they finished in a pack of about 40 teams at the Ontario Federation of School Athletics in Toronto. The team is coached by Don Blackadder and includes Elizabeth and Kelly Rankin (Grade 12); and Calla Humphries (Grade 12).

Midget Crusaders and season

Char-Lan midget girls basketball came to a close Nov. 23. The Crusaders were knocked out of the semi-finals by Rothwell-Osnabruk. As in the previous three years, the battle between the two teams was a close, hard-fought battle down to the final minute. The Crusaders seemed a bit nervous in the first half. The opening quarter saw the Crusaders take the lead until the dying minutes when R-O tied the game at the second quarter, strong play by both squads forced a tie with the half ending a low 12-8 for the Lancers.

The third quarter saw both teams spark to life with each scoring points leaving the Lancers four going into the final quarter.

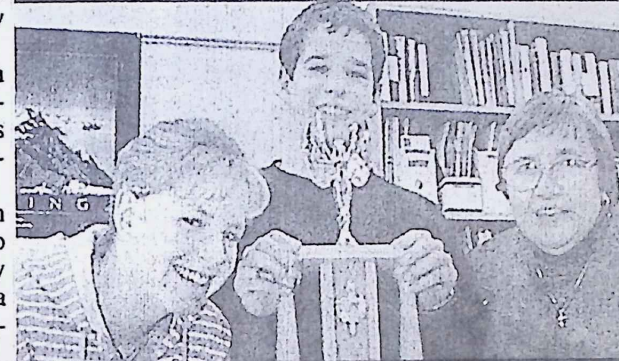

The see-saw battle continued with the Crusaders closing the gap to 10 in the final minute and thirty seconds, only to lose the ball to a breakaway for a cruising lay-

Graduation

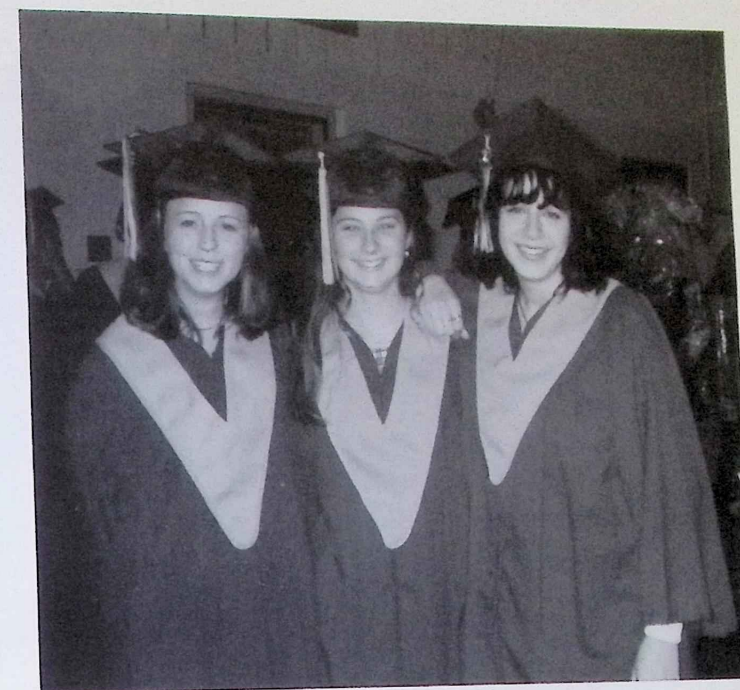

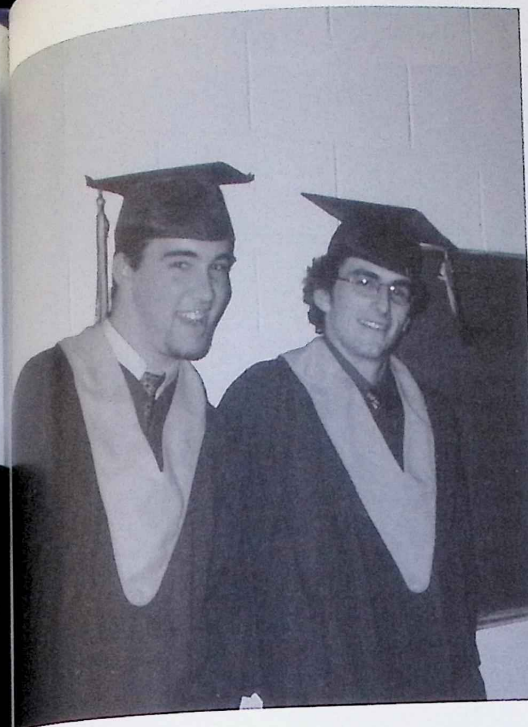

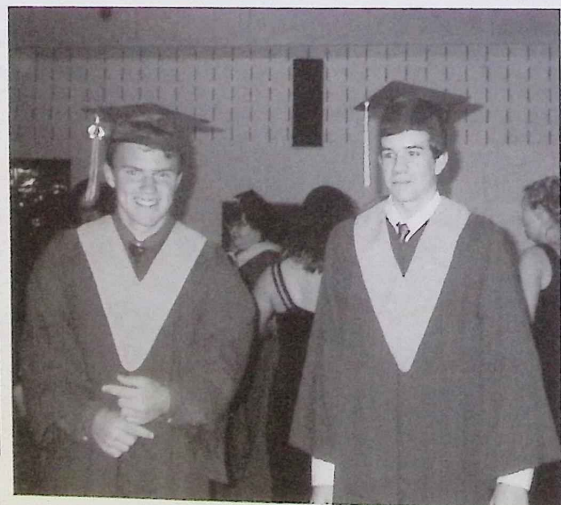

2000

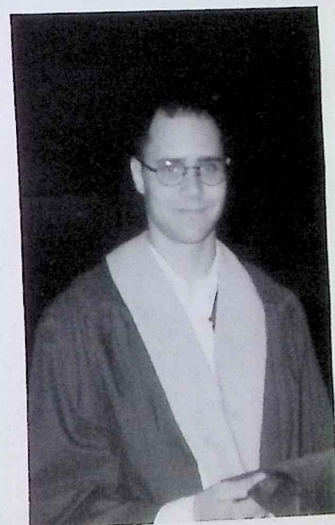

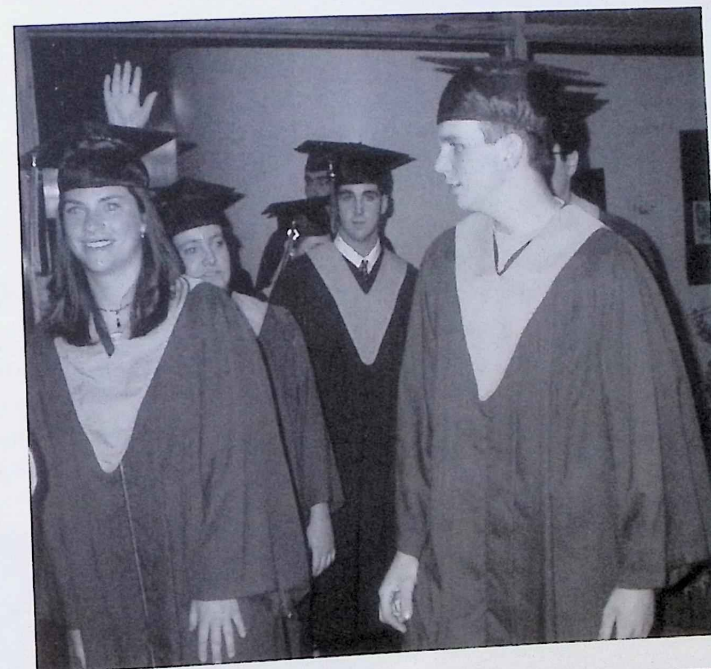

Graduation 2000 transformed not only the students but the cafeteria as well. There were smiles as the graduates received the small piece of paper they have been striving for their entire high school careers. There was a relieved sigh from each parent as their child made their way across the stage in a blur of camera flashes. For many, their hard work paid off when they received an award. Our valedictorian, Kristen Mcdonell, brought tears to our eyes as she spoke lovingly of the influence of our parents on our lives. Mr. Hunter received a standing ovation as he was presented with his retirement gift; a garden bench. Mrs. Lacelle received a basket of flowers for her garden which she will now have time to tend. The ceremony was topped off when the graduates threw their caps into the air with a small cry. Thanks to all those who helped to make this night a memorable one!

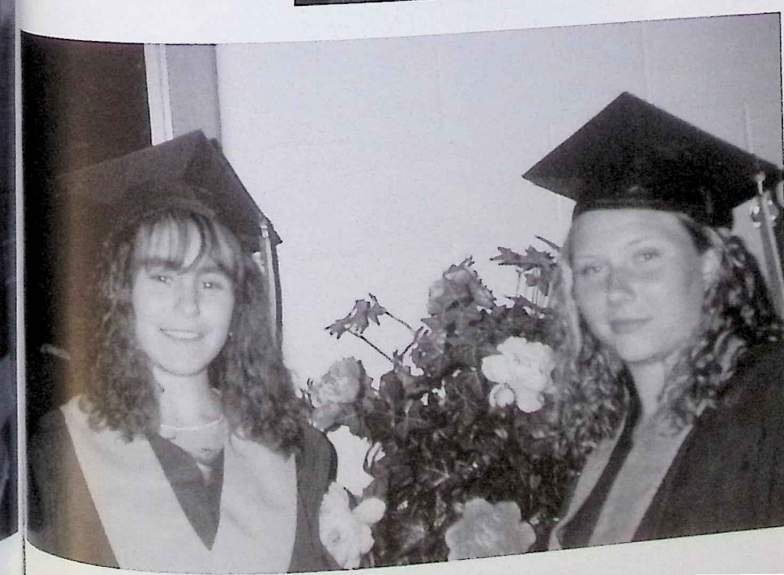

As well as being Ontario Scholars, Joey and Jonathan both recieved several awards. Joey recieved five awards. The most heartfelt award was voted by the staff to Best Citizen of 1999-2000. Jonathan recieved a total of nine awards. Jonathan's perseverance rewarded him with the Macdonell/Barrett Scholarship for the highest average mark achieved in all three OAC maths.

traditional Scottish fashion, the Char-Lan graduates were piped in.

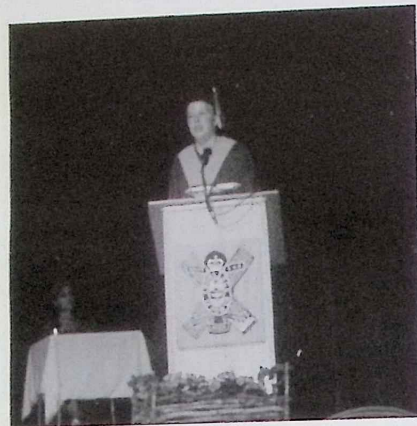

Everybody wearing a cap and gown was happy to be at school that day.

Valedictorian Address

By: Kristen McDonell

Good evening parents, teachers, honored guests and fellow graduates. I have been chosen by my peers to speak to you tonight on their behalf and I am proud to represent Char-Lan class of 2000. I could keep you here all night talking about all the things that we as a class have experienced over the past 5 years, but I think most of us have some better ideas of what we could be doing with this evening. So, instead, I would like to quickly thank a few people who have had a great impact on our class. One anonymous quote really sums up how we all feel about these people. "Some people come into our lives and quickly go, some stay for a while and leave footprints on our hearts... And we are never, ever the same."

First of all, I would like to thank our teachers. We have seen many come and go in our 5 years here at Char-Lan, but each and every one of them left their mark on the school. These people have taught us things we will need to know in our future endeavors. Inside of the classroom they taught us math and science and english, outside of the classroom they taught us sportsmanship, dedication, team work and often times friendship. Sometimes we didn't always see eye to eye on everything, but that too is part of the learning process. This remarkable group of people have changed our lives and have helped to shape us into the young adults you see before you this evening. Thank you. I think it is also appropriate at this time to give our parents and families a round applause for their support throughout our high school years. No one can ever be successful on their own, and our parents have helped us come this far. In a way this is their graduation as well tonight. They are the ones who pushed us to do homework and study hard. They were also our first teachers. They taught us how to walk and talk, they taught us right from wrong, and every little lesson along the way led us to this point- high school graduates. I don't know if a child can ever really properly thank their parents for all that they have done. Maybe seeing your child find their place in the world and be successful and happy at whatever they choose to do is enough. I know we can all do that. Maybe all they need to hear are the words "thanks Mom and Dad, I love you." We can all do that too.

I would also like to thank every member of our graduating class. Thank you for choosing Char-Lan 5 years ago and sticking it out through these years. Thank you for getting involved and making Char-Lan a great school. In ten years, the clothes we wore will be out of style, and the clique we belonged to will not mean anything to us. It won't matter if you drove to school, or took the bus. Whether you were in general or advanced classes, captain of the basketball team, or the Canada Quiz team. We will find that no matter where we go or what we do, we will have a connection. And when we meet each other. The things we have done together and the lessons we have unknowingly taught each other will stick with us for the rest of our lives and will affect everything we do. And for that, I thank you.

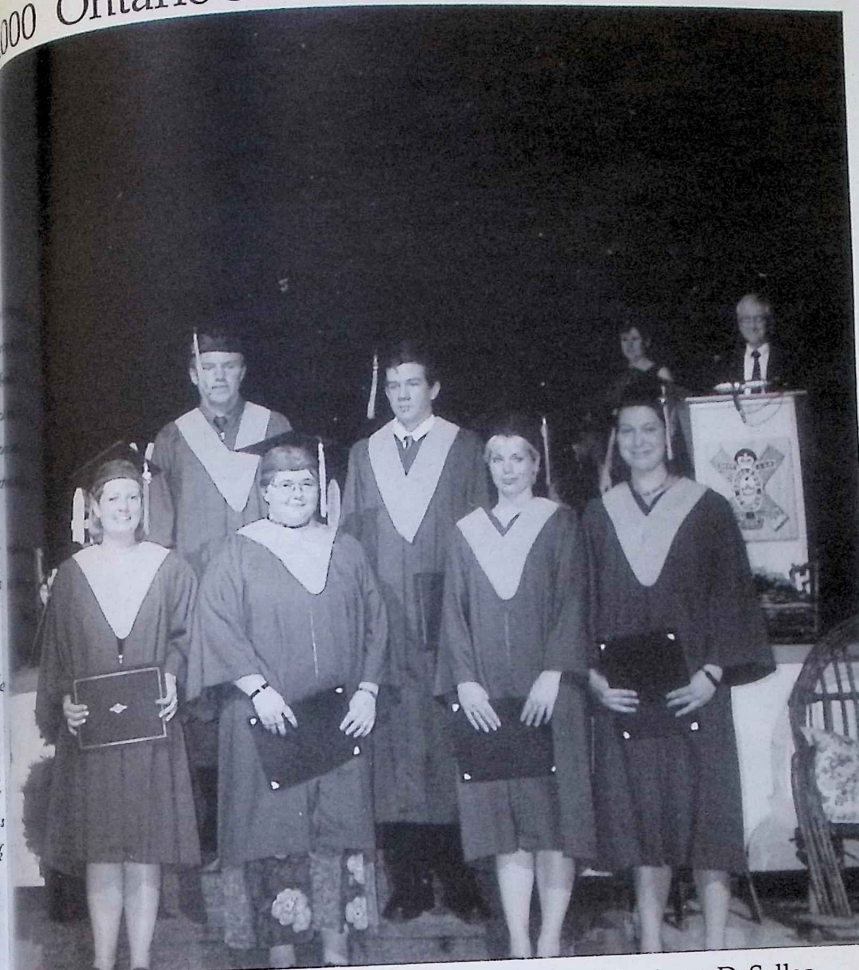

There have been 46 graduating classes from Char-Lan. Many of our parents and brothers and sisters were members of these former classes. Perhaps many of us will have younger siblings attending Char-Lan, and maybe someday even our children. Being the class of 2000 we are not only the last grade 13 class of the century, we are the first graduating class of the millenium. We feel a tremendous responsibility to leave these future generations with nearly half a century of memories. We can't let them forget traditions like celebrating our Scottish heritage, airbands, and of course national ship days!

Today we celebrate the end of our childhood. This is the day a lot of us have dreamed of for years. It hasn't really hit us until now, the importance of the friends we made, the lessons we learned and the memories we've shared. We are now going to go our seperate ways. For those going to college or university, there will be no bells ringing to remind you to go to class. For those entering the work force, there will be no more freeloading from your parents. (Sorry guys, that's for students only.) We will become older, more mature, more responsible, basically become the people we find extremely boring today. Tonight we will probably reminisce about the good times we had. These memories will be with us for a lifetime. We will tell our children and grandchildren about the crazy things we did together and the wonderful friends that we made. It is within these memories that we will always truly remain young.

The friendships we have made are everlasting. We have changed so much since we first came here. The people who helped us every step of the way to what we have become today will be forever etched in our memory. It will take courage to get up and leave this place, that although we are anxious to be free of, is a place where we find comfort.

We question the decisions we make today, because they are so important. I have faith in all of us, we will all be okay. As we enter a new phase in our lives, I would like to leave you with a few words from a well known and wise starship commander: "Man your ships. And may the Force be with you."
