Principal's Message

The Headmaster of the School has a few words of wisdom

Congratulations to all of our students who are graduating from Char-Lan this year. The teachers, friends and acquaintances that you have met and the experiences you had while here will remain with you forever. My hope, of course, is that you will always remember this school positively and that you will always be a Char-Lan ambassador in your new role as an alumnus.

This has been a very busy year for the Crusader community. Our co-curricular teams, clubs, and organizations have been very active and your participation has made a significant difference. I would like to extend a big thank you to the Yearbook staff for making this book possible.

To those students who are not graduating, I look forward to working with you to continue to make Char-Lan a wonderful learning environment, full of rich experiences and memorable events.

On behalf of all the staff, I wish everyone a wonderful future full of success and happiness.

Vicky Schaefer
President
2004-5

As another year at Char-Lan comes to an end, I can't help but feel saddened. Although my time here at Char-Lan has been unforgettable, it is heartbreaking that many of my friends will be going their separate ways. But even with this in mind, it is hard to forget all of the good times and great memories that were born at Char-Lan. These past four years have been the best of my life. To each and every student here, thank you for making Char-Lan a better place. I'd like to take this opportunity to thank administration and all of the staff for their continuous support and uplifting spirits. You have made my job as President much easier. I'd also like to send out a special thank-you to Mr. D, Mrs. Vander Burg, Mr. Danaher, Maggie, Claude, and Christina for all of their contributions and efforts for Student's Council. Without all of your help, this year would not have been possible. With that being said, I'd like to say that I am proud of Char-Lan for accomplishing goals, and making headlines. The students here prove that Char-Lan is truly a small school with a heart of gold.

What's so DAMN funny!?

The Frostbite Queen Talent Show was a great opportunity to have fun and show spirit at the same time! I was really just doing it for fun and I didn't expect to win so when I did I was really surprised. I had such a great time and I got to meet awesome people that I had never really talked to before. Everyone did such a great job and I was so proud of all the girls that put themselves out there! I was so glad that Jesse Cattanach and Christina Russell were Frostbite Princesses because they totally deserved it! It was fun to just represent the school that I love so much! Char-Lan, you are the best and I enjoyed being your Frostbite Queen !! Never let the spirit die!

St. Andrew's Day

The day of St. Andrew, the patron saint of Scotland, is celebrated every year on November 30th, both in Scotland and around the world. Here at Char-Lan we carry out our own annual celebration.

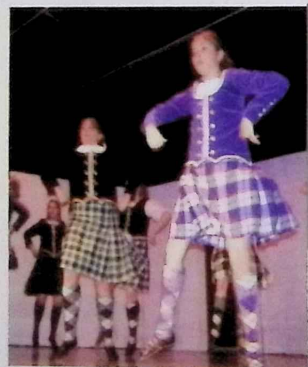

St. Andrew's Day is celebrated by the Scots of the world on November 30th, although very little is known about the fisherman from Galilee (which is now part of Israel). It is known that he and his brother Saint Peter became apostles of Jesus Christ, it is believed that St. Andrew spread the Christian religion top Asia Minor and Greece. History states he was crucified by the Romans in the Southern regions of Greece.

St. Andrew's bones were entombed and moved 300 years later by Emperor Constantine. Legend has it that the Greek monk, St. Rule had a dream about an angel carrying St. Andrew's remains to the "Ends of the Earth" for safe keeping. St. Rule took a tooth, an arm bone, a kneecap and a few fingers to the farthest end of the Earth at the time, Scotland. St. Rule shipwrecked near a Pictish settlement which would later be known as St. Andrews.

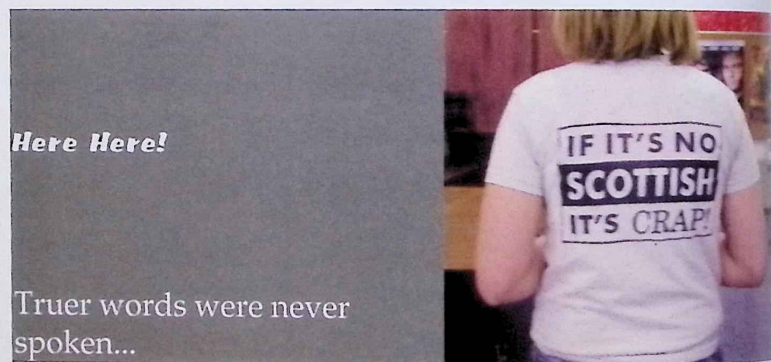

There are many other legends about St. Andrew. Which ever one you decide to believe, don't be shy... gather 'round hearth and enjoy some fresh haggis.

Even Mr. McDanaher was dressed for the occasion as he spoke to the assembly about tradition.

A Visual Feast prepared by Constance Sloan

Play Ball!

Left: Mr. Carriere prepares to knock another one out of the park. Calm, cool, and collected, he doesn't look at all worried about a possible defeat.

Kiddies get another lesson in how to play the game!

Left: Mrs. Vanderburg and Mr. DiStefano take to the field. Notice the preparedness? Compare that with Jeremy MacDonald (right) who looks ready for action... but who is that behind him? Is she holding her glove to her face in shame?

Teachers Take the Field

The tradition of the Grads vs. Teachers softball game is a much anticipated activity, with predictable results. Once again, the teachers destroyed the hopes of the graduating class, and had them chasing balls all over the field. Still, for the chance to spend a long lunch hour in the sun, many students don't seem too concerned about the yearly reminder of who is are the masters, and who the students. Someday, perhaps, with the aid of a miracle or two... the grads will win. Until then, "Take me out at the ball game" will be the song sung by many a grad. Better luck next year!

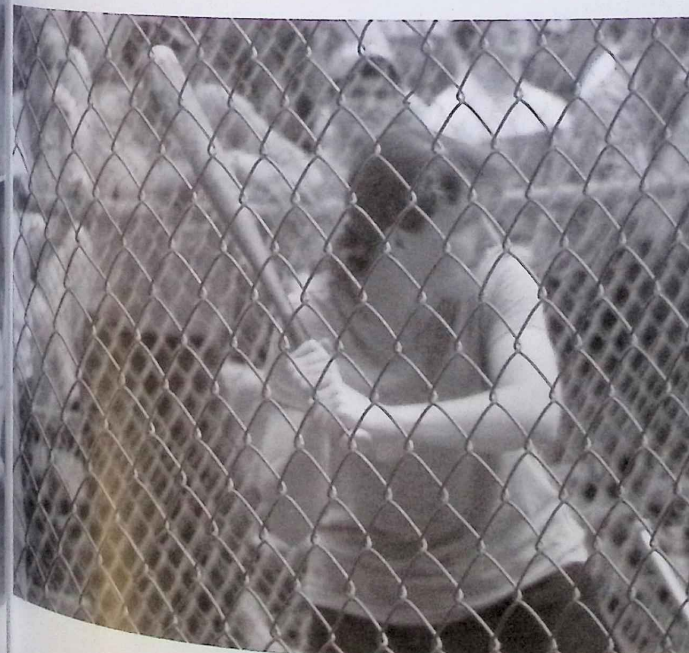

In the Beginning...
There was the act, and the act was action! Look how excited these students are to be outdoors, cheering on their graduating friends! (Far Left) Maybe they should get on the field and help out... but would it make a difference?

James Chenoweth waits for it to end Story is, James Chenoweth vowed that when he got the chance, he would take the teachers down. Well, four years of planning, plotting, and praying, and all James can do is look on in disbelief.

In the end...

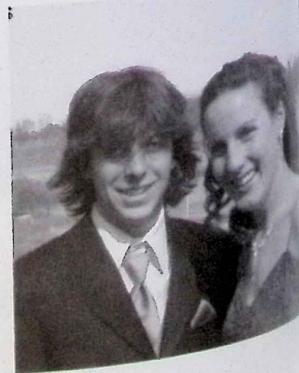

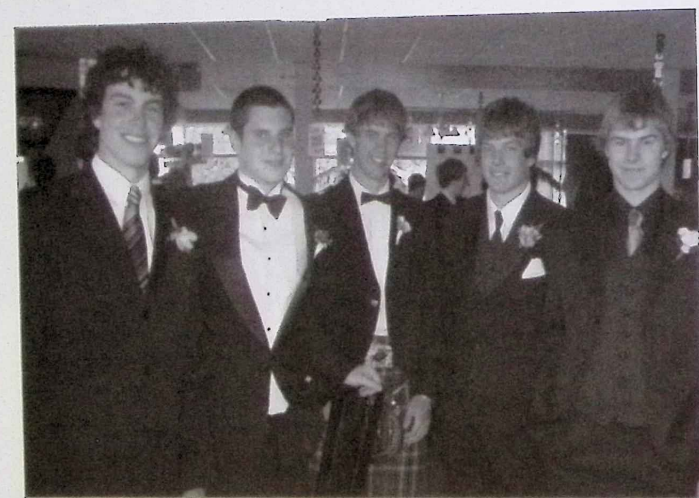

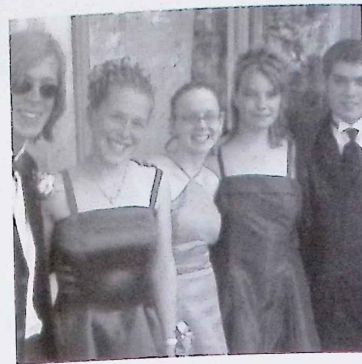

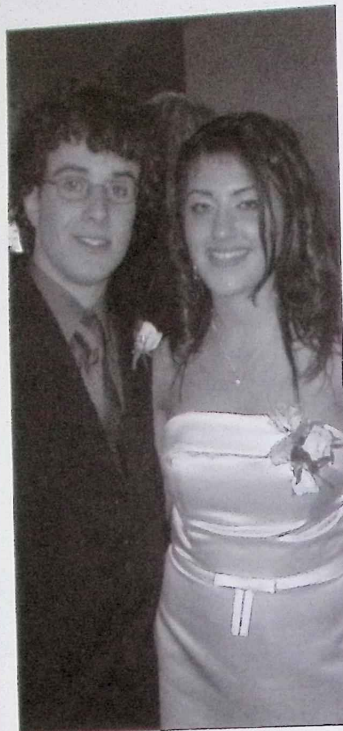

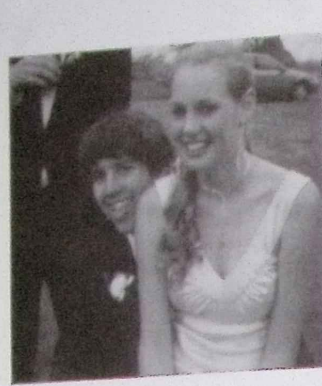

There was sadness, as students drooped in realization of their inevitable defeat. You know, my children, we have been at this a long time! We've been winning the Grads vs. Teachers Softball Game since before time began.

Marlene hits another home run!
By day, this meek and humble woman helps students by the boatload, giving each her care and concentration... but get her on the field, and... well, what was the final score again?

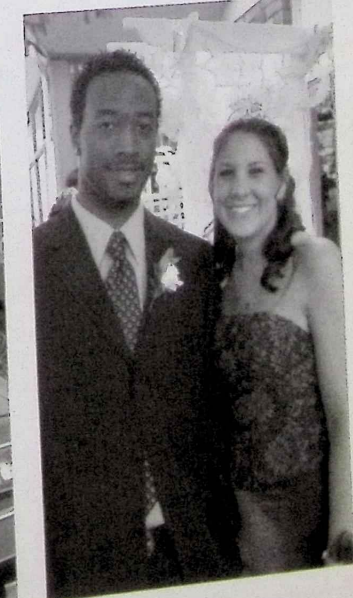

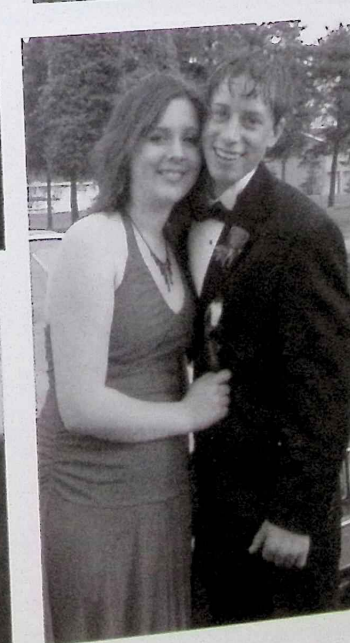

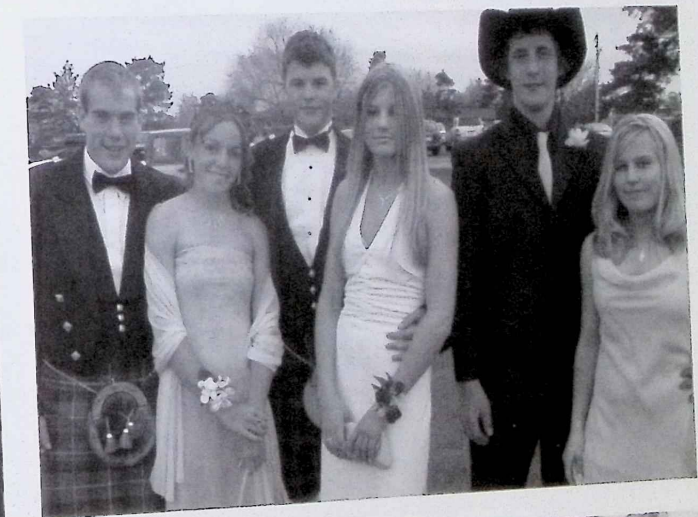

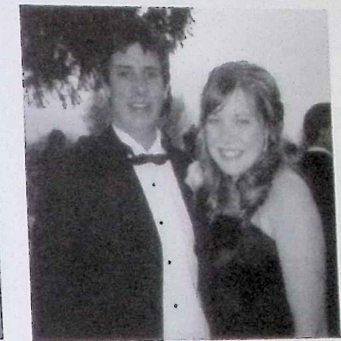

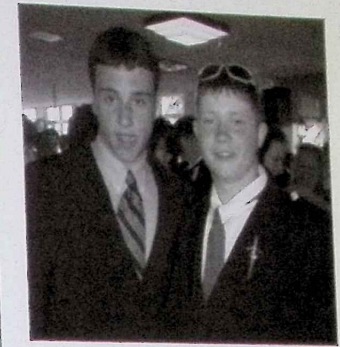

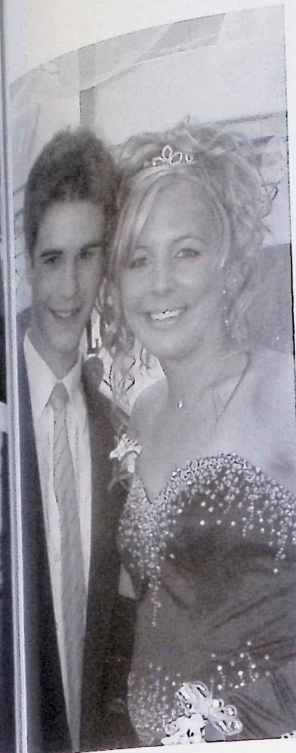

We're going to win... (sigh!) again!
(Above) It isn't every day that we see Mr. Carlisle looking bored... but competitiveness comes with having a challenge to overcome... and when you've been winning for this many years in a row...

Good evening Mr. Danaher, Graduates, Honourable Guests, Teachers, Family & Friends.

You'll never believe how fast it goes! "It's the best four years of your life but it's over before you know it." Well, I must say, in August 2001, as we graced the hallways of Char-Lan for the first time, the Class of 2005 seemed worlds away. We sat amongst ourselves eating our hot dogs, overwhelmed with a mixture of nerves and excitement. The schedules seemed far too complicated, the daily rotation could not have appeared to be more chaotic and the warning bell was just not enough time to try and crack those impossible locker combinations! Not to mention, those dreaded late slips that became far too familiar for me and my teachers. Who would have imagined we'd go from hot dogs to high school diplomas in what seemed to be such a short amount of time. These four hallways we travel along each day may have seemed never ending in grade 9, but over the past four years the memories that have accumulated within them will forever remain with all of us. Whether they are memories of academic achievements, extra curricular activities such as carnival week, hockey games, pep rallies, hosting EOSSAA soccer, Crusader Quest, Girls OFSAA soccer, Rock'n'Roll, Dances, 30 hour famine, camping trips, fashion shows, spirit days, prom...and we were always well fed, with pizza days, bake sales and grad breakfast; or whether they were simply wonderful lunch hours we spent mingling with friends, we all leave here today with memorable moments to cherish forever.

Grade 9 was without a doubt a whole new beginning. We were the typical minor niners, lining up at our classroom doors even before the warning bell had rung, traveling as a pack from one event to the next, getting the month long exam preparation and somehow managing to find a spot for everyone at one very small lunchroom table, but even with all of these sometimes dreadful new experiences taking place, I think we would all agree, grade nine was a great start! Finally, grade 10 rolled around, and boy were we cool cats!

Now it was our turn to walk the walk and talk the talk, trouble with locker combinations...nooo...never? The best part, we established our very own table in the cafeteria, something you can certainly only pull off with a little seniority. Those awful days of having to squeeze five on two chairs were long gone! Late slips, exams, early morning practices, yes we know! New experiences, however, were still abundant. We had the opportunity of participating in Crusader Quest, the very first year it was established and it was a great success! We also attended achievement awards, where we received accolades and awards for a grade nine year well done! Oh, and we were not midgets anymore, we were juniors! Grade 11, the 'in between' years as many call it. We didn't seem to have the 'pull' we had in grade ten. We were just the plain old 11's, who knew the routine and always looked forward to holidays. But wait....finally, finally, we were seniors!

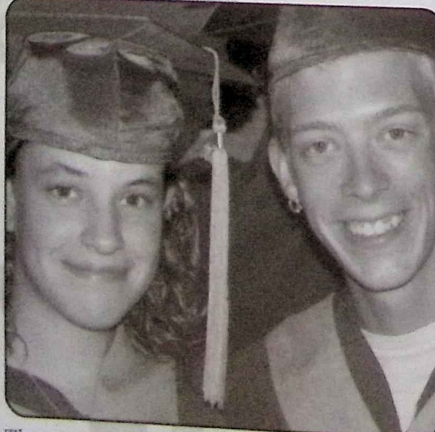

We just seemed to have gotten better at this whole high school thing every year. Above all, our friendships had grown. We were no longer the shy, hesitant classmates we were in grade nine, even ten. Now we were a true class. There to make each other laugh, to encourage, to lend a helping hand, to be a good friend. And might I add, at Char-Lan, by the time you get to grade 11, there are no secrets. Everyone knows everything about everybody, I guess you could even say in a sense we were our own family.

Grade 12, we were officially in the home stretch, the last mile. This was the finishing touch. Where did the year go? We wondered in September how fast it would go but I don't think any of us imagined it would fly by quite this quickly. Now we have certainly come a long way from hot dogs and locker combinations as we are in the process of planning our future. The privileges as graduating students could not have made this year more memorable. The students vs. teacher competitions, we unfortunately did not win bragging rights, the yearbook submissions, grad pictures, prom and now, we're here. We're here tonight to celebrate the laughs, tears, victories, defeats, achievements and joys of our high school career; we're here tonight to celebrate our graduation. In the words of Orrin Hatch, "Graduation is not the end, it's only the beginning." To the parents, without you this wonderful transition from our elementary to high school years and now from high school to post secondary challenges would truly have never been possible. "Make sure I'm up for practice", "I need cookies for our bake sale!", "Oh Mom, I have an I.S. due tomorrow"...those are only few of the reasons why you love us, and likewise, why we love you. You should be proud of yourselves, as we sit here tonight, this celebration is not only for us, but for you, for succeeding at molding us into the achieved, successful individuals we are becoming. We may be the graduates but the diplomas we've received tonight are not only ours but yours as well. This journey has without a doubt been a combined effort. In the words of Hodding Carter Jr., "There are two lasting bequests we can give our children. One is roots. The other is wings." Our roots will always be here at Char-Lan, within Glengarry but most importantly our roots will be at home, where you taught us how to fly and have allowed us to soar to new heights. To all of the influential men and women who are here for us everyday. You make this highschool everything that it is. Teachers, your dedication, commitment, understanding and patience are the qualities that make us truly grateful, though sometimes that may not be evident! I think all of us would agree we're ready because of you. Whether we are moving on to the work force, an apprenticeship, college, or university, you have prepared us to tackle any obstacle or challenge we may encounter along the way. You have taught us essentials that will prove very beneficial at many stages throughout our lives. Whether it was that mark inflation really does not help you in the long run, that making those same mistakes more than once will eventually cost you or that being physically fit is vital for your health, the profound impact each of you have made on our lives is a lesson on its own we will cherish forever. Graduates, our adventure to discovering our life goals is about to begin and that takes me back to a piece of poetry written by Robert Frost, entitled The Road Not Taken.

"Two roads diverged in a yellow wood, And sorry I could not travel both And be one traveler, long I stood And looked down one as far as I could To where it bent in the undergrowth; Then took the other, as just as fair, And having perhaps the better claim, Because it was grassy and wanted wear; Though as for that the passing there Had worn them really about the same, ... Two roads diverged in a wood, and I- I took the one less traveled by, And that has made all the difference."
I am sure we will all eventually meet the fork in the road that leaves us questioning which to take, but I know, as I've known since grade nine, we will all choose the right path, whether it is less frequented or much the same. It is not our choice, however, or our instincts but us, that will make this road all that it is, we will make the difference. No matter where we end up: running our own business, in the mechanics shop, in the classroom, in the hospital, in the field or in the secretary's office, we must never forget where we came from. Remember Dr. Seuss when he says, "You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. You are the guy who'll decide where to go. And, oh... the places you'll go."

Congratulations graduates, we did it! Hats off to the Class of 2005!

The night was filled with smiles all around. Here, graduates Tyler Orr and Cheryl Achilles prepare for their big moment on stage.

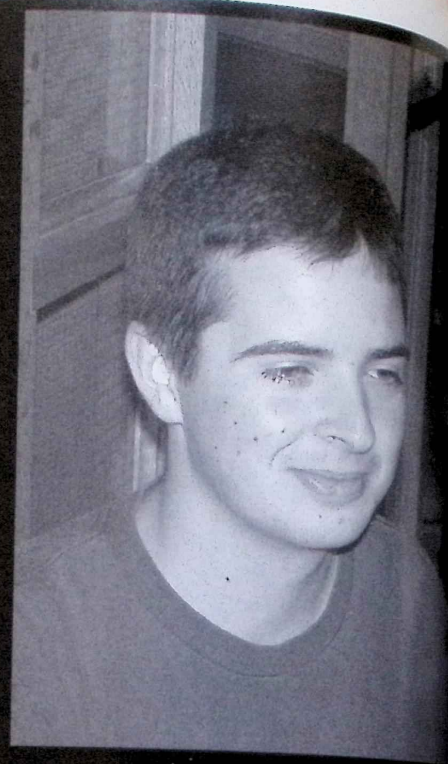

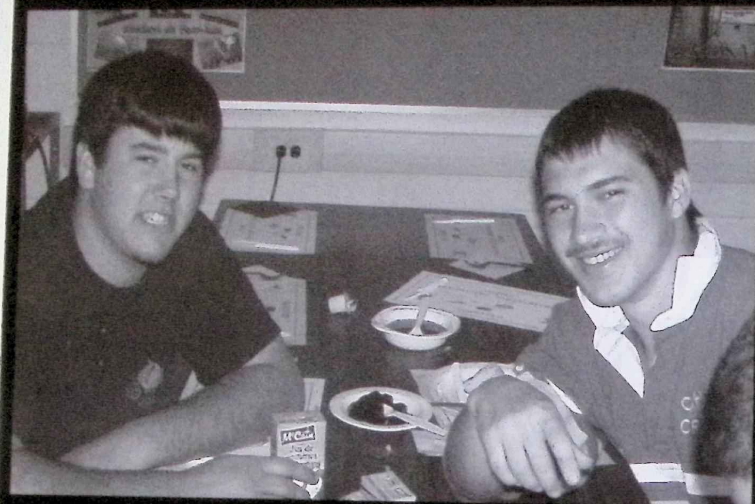

Victoria Schaefer presents esteemed graduate Mr. Geoff Trasuk with a golf bag and a fond farewell from the entire Char-Lan family.

The Char-Lan Parents' Council would like to congratulate the Class of 2005 on their achievements. Continue to make us proud as you prepare for a bright future.

How Accidents Happen

He's speeding down an icy road,
With no seatbelt strapping him down.
He doesn't see the danger,
He's headed straight for town.
There are kids playing road hockey,
Having fun and laughing too.
He speeds up a little more,
And bang! Out of the blue.
There is blood staining the earth,
There are bodies on the ground.
The medics rush to the scene,
To the remains left lying around.
They are too late to save them,
All of them are dead.
What was that driver thinking?
Why didn't he use his head?
The families weep with tears,
Full of grief and pain.
Those people are lost forever,
That driver was insane.
Life will eventually move on.

All Alone

Lonely is the word I choose.
To describe the feeling and abuse.
All I wanted was to know why you left me all alone.
All alone to feel the pain.
The pain of memories long ago.
I want to tell you that I care and hope to get back the love we shared.
Our love was strong.
Strong and bright.
So why did you leave without a fight?
A fight for love that would last.
Last forever and never pass.
But now I know that it's done,
And life isn't always fun.
I wish I could turn back the time.
The time when you were all mine.

The Unspoken Lesson

She fumbles through her handbag,
searching for her keys,
The day's been long, so much gone
wrong,
Her sigh lifts on the breeze.
She'd woken in the morning with a buzzing in her head,
Alarm clock wailing, the sound
unfailing,
A noise she'd learned to dread.
A piece of toast was all she ate before she had to go,
She could not wait, for she was late,
And the morning bus was slow.
When the clock struck twelve o'clock,
it felt like it was four.
The piles of work and the restless clerk
Made her long for something more.
Now the day is finally done, through the streets she walks alone,
A few steps more, she'll be at her door,
When suddenly, she hears a moan.
She quickly sees the source of the melancholy sound.
That sound has a face, filled with disgrace,
Its gaze lowered to the ground.
He hasn't a home, or a dime to his name, she thinks silently from within.
The she thinks of herself, and all of her wealth,
And sees just how selfish she's been.
Yes, some days are hard, some days are long, and some days are ridden with strife.
But now it's her plan, because of that man,
To be thankful for each day of her life.

Fun to Me in the Spring

Did you hear, spring is here,
That means summer's near.
Splash, you jump in the pool,
Feel the wind, nice and cool.
When the flowers grow
And the river flows.
Here comes the ice cream truck,
Let's get banana crunch.
School is out! They scream and shout.
Anyone for freezies? Your mom would call.
Yes, the all scream, having a ball.
Birds swinging and swaying sounding so sweet,
As I feel the grass touching my feet.
This is was fun in the spring is to me!

Video Games

Be this platform always plugged, the controllers lit and on,
All the sockets perfectly bugged,
setting comfortably drawn.
Neatly sitting on the floor, half against the wall, apart
Couldn't ask for anything more, just the game to start.
Are you pro gamer, or just an observer,
Perhaps a beginner, or something a little deeper?
Whatever the attitude, all that matters is to Be in the mood, for now we choose what we do.
Do you prefer to shoot, or maybe drive,
Fight and get the boot, and struggle to stay alive.
Take control of a player, go on a quest,
Be the king, a slayer, and fight for the best.
Sports might be what to play, hockey,
football, soccer,
Raise your skill for the day, tomorrow
we start all over.
Who needs school, games may cost money,
But, this is o' so cool, and somewhat more funny.
Don't be a loser, sore, you might be bested,
Still, sit with me on the floor, like all the rest did.
Oops, game dramatically tossed, may I implore,
You just lost, joining many more.
Quoth the video game, "GAME OVER,
no more."

Let's Make A Snowman

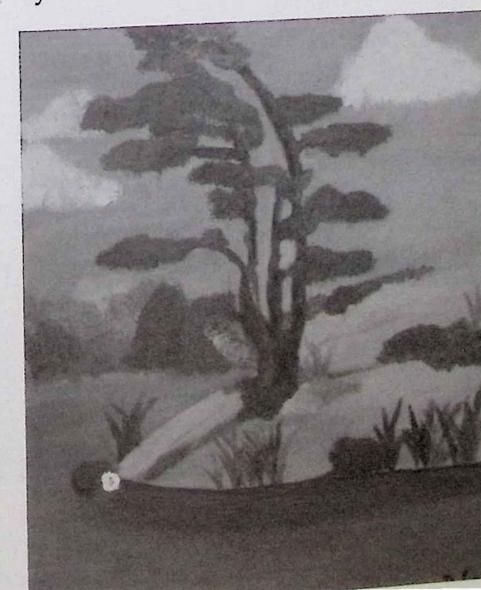

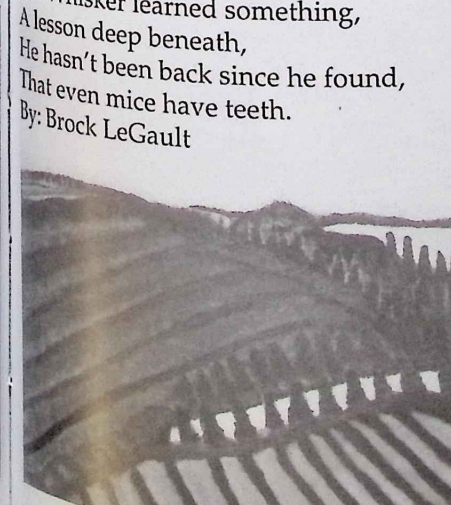

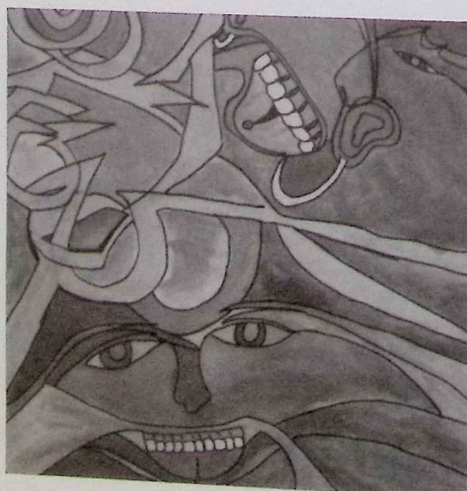

Zippering up my warm pink coat,
A yellow scarf covers up my throat.
Sliding on my cozy snow boots,
And pink fuzzy mittens make up my snowsuit!
I open the door, and I stare.
The white snow blows, the pine trees
glow,
As I walk through the snow!
With my two hands I pat together a snowball
And I fall on my two knees and crawl.
The snowball grows larger, and larger till
It stops at the top of the hill.
I roll two more snowballs and place them on top.
A carrot, two sticks, a hat and rocks -
Plop!
I step back and hear Anne,
"Look, you've made a snowman!"

Heart Breaker

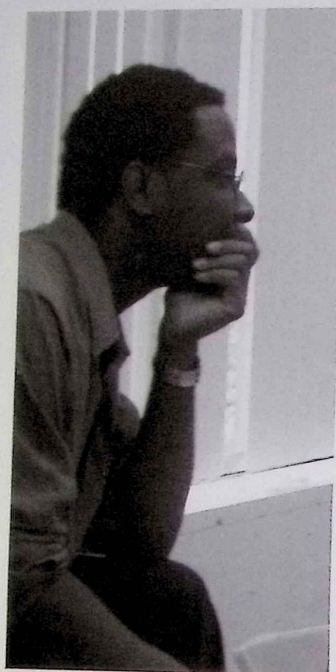

He said he loved me.
He said he cared.
He said he wouldn't hurt me.
I said I loved him.
I said I cared.
I said I'd never hurt him.
I said I loved him and meant it.
I said I cared and meant it.
So all those things he said were lies.
He never loved me.
He never cared.
He hurt me more than anyone.

I Am Mouse, Hear Me Squeak

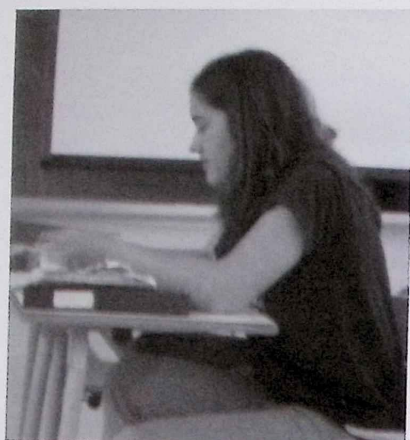

I am just a rodent,
In no way am I strong,
Oh! why was I born a mouse?
What did I do wrong?
Every day "Mr. Whisker" comes,
And tries to take my life,
Just the other day he stole,
My children and my wife.
To me his I s a giant,
And I am just so small,
Many things can scare me,
But this one tops them all.
He caught me once, right by the tail,
And held me up to see,
I lashed out and I bit his nose,
Alas! I was free!
Mr. Whisker learned something,
A lesson deep beneath,
He hasn't been back since he found,
That even mice have teeth.

Junior Boys Rugby

Rugby players are the hardest to get a photo of. They are always on the move.

You would never believe the skill needed to play this game well... Launch a heavy rock down the ice, releasing it carefully while on the slide. You have to control the turn, figure out the weight, balance your broom properly, and be smooth, very smooth. Top it off with a subtle set of instructions from your skip (your captain), and two partners, who sweep your rock (often in a mad frenzy) all to make it go where it should. These are the basics of a fascinating game. (Above) Coach Craig Carlisle oversees the intricacies of the game.

2004-2005 Crusader Quest Co-chair speaks out!

Crusader Quest is one of the best events I have ever taken part in. Crusader Quest 2004-2005, I had the chance to meet many of the new kids in the school, and help them improve their leadership skills and to help them become better people in society.

This 3 day camp makes everyone around you feel better about themselves and show positive attitudes towards others. Hopefully most attendants bring that spirit back to Char-Lan.

If you ever have the opportunity to attend Crusader Quest, do not reject the offer. This is an offer and an opportunity that you shouldn't waste. I guarantee it.

As a following note, I'd like to thank all who attended Crusader Quest 04-05, to all skill-builders and sub-committee, and last to Maggie Cattanach, co-chair of Crusader Quest 04-05. We made it the best ever!

Young Drivers helps parents say yes to drivers' licences.

Want to go for your licence?
Trying to persuade your folks?

Why not bring them to a free parent-teen co-driver session at Young Drivers of Canada?

(Or call us for a free video brochure!)

We can show Mom and Dad that with YD's famous risk perception, emergency maneuvers and collision avoidance training, you'll be able to handle the responsibility of a licence.

After all, we've already trained over half a million people to drive as if their lives depended on it.

Just call Young Drivers, and say the word. We'll reserve your seats.

And maybe they'll let us put you on the road!
