The meaning of CQ

Oh the smiles, the memories, the pudding drops and the squirrels... Crusader Quest is home for all of these fond and treasured memories of our youth. The memories you create at Crusader Quest will last you a lifetime so next year when they announce the arrival of the applications in the guidance office don't be shy, grab one for yourself and another for a friend be sure to mark it with a SB if you are a returning veteran to this yearly affair. Help us make sure the memories are cherished by yet another generation of Crusaders.

^ Above
Rugby vets and friends Vanessa, Emily, Merina, and Jessica show that just because rugby season is over it doesn't mean that their friendship can't steal the field at CQ.

Quest 2005

Crusader Quest has to be the hardest three days any one ever has to endure. You get your face covered with pudding, have to listen to Mr. Power talk about his Great Island, watch Christina mock David Beckham, and the guys always seem so down to earth. Really it's hard to deal with. But its also unforgettable!

Principal's message.

Vice-principal's message.

This has been a very exciting year at Char-Lan! I want to congratulate all of the students and Mr. Blois for their great work and dedication in getting our book of wonderful memories together.

To the students who are graduating this year, please take these wonderful experiences with you. Remember that you will always be a true Crusader. To the students who are returning in September, let us continue to make this wonderful school the center for excellence in our community. Have a wonderful and safe summer! See you in September.

Mr Danaher

It is somewhat ironic that I have been asked to write this note for the yearbook on the same day that last year's Yearbook is being distributed! But the conversation in the hall, as people reminisce over the pages and pictures of the yearbook, has confirmed something that I sensed on my very first day at Char-Lan. Students and staff in this school undertake endeavors and causes that celebrate everything from ancient traditions to the indomitable nature of the human spirit. As graduates, you have celebrated all of these events over the past few years. The benefits are difficult to measure, impossible to forget and will never fail you in your journey. I hope that you will take with you all of the leadership, enthusiasm, laughter and zest for life that you have shared with others here at Char-Lan. Congratulations! Do not be unhappy that it is over; instead be thrilled that it ever happened!

Char-Lan Students Get Active in Honour of Terry

Two hundred and thirty-six Char-Lan students raised $4,367.50 for the Terry Fox Fundraiser. After running or walking the 8.9 kilometres, students gathered in the gym see an interesting presentation by local avid cyclist, Bob Hartley. Students then watched five of their classmates shave their heads as an additional fundraiser, Charlotte Cattnach, Adam Barton, Curran Schoenmaker, Kyle McIntosh and Brennan Poirier took part, along with Mr. Carlisle.

Don't Be A Fool, sign-up next year to raise money and keep Terry's memory alive!

A Few Final Words, The President's Address

This has been an awesome and extremely successful year for Char-Lan! This year student's council was able to distribute more money to sports teams and to clubs than ever imagined in previous years. The money collected from the student fees and the chocolate bar sales allowed numerous student breakfasts, a hypnotist, and many EOSSA and OFSAA getaways.

I would like to take this opportunity to encourage everyone to participate in student council and to perhaps run for president. I am sure that there are many students who are more intelligent and creative than I who would be able to inspire new traditions and offer new entertaining twists on a few of the older ones.

As a council we did our very best to provide a fun and interesting year. I would like to thank Jessie Cattanach, Christina Russell, Meghan Henderson, and Kayla Fontaine for all of their Hard work and determination during the year. I would also like to thank Mr. D, Mrs. David, and Mrs. Vanderburg for their hard work, their patience, their great ideas, for their guidance and for keeping us on track throughout the year.

Good luck to all the graduates, and to the future president. Keep working hard, and continue to provide fun new activities to get everyone involved and don't forget to smile!

On The Cover...

Examples of the Celtic Knot have been found dating back more than 1,200 years, most notably as decoration in religious manuscripts such as the Books of Kells and the Book of Durrow, from 800 A.D. Though there are many different designs, they all have one thing in common. The intricate interweaving of the lines form a loop . . . There is no end. The Celts considered these knots to represent the interconnectedness of life, things without beginnings or ends and the ongoing spiritual journey. The theme of "coming together" made me think of the Celtic Knot. No matter where we go, how our lives twist and turn, rise or fall, we are always connected to one another through our years at Char-Lan. Michelle Dorie, 2005-2006

From the Desk of Your Beloved Yearbook Editors

Yearbook is a job that resembles doing the dishes, everyone wants them done but few volunteer to do them. This year was no different, we put in plenty of hours of hard work, and many Wednesday evenings recovering from the strain. The year got off to a brilliant start with the new online program, and many times we couldn't believe how much stress this new technology had caused. Unfortunately we screamed at each other in a few words that we cannot include in this publication but we still somehow found a way to keep the events of our meetings locked in the depths of the yearbook closet. Horrible screaming moments aside the entire staff loved every moment of it. All in all we had an awesome year, the deadlines were met, the book looks awesome, and we are happy to say that we have turned the page on another chapter of our lives. With most of this years staff entering their last year at Char-Lan we are going to need a few more recruits ready to bind their hands together and help us preserve our High-School memories to share with our grand children. So next year when a friend says "Wanna come join yearbook with me?" grab two more friends and walk on down. You never know one day you just might get to call yourself editor.

Always,

2005-2006 Achievment Awards

High school is seen by most as a haven for the athletically gifted. Char-Lan however, feels the need to break free of this traditional view. Students portray dedication in studies, clubs and balancing acts. This year 46 students in grades 9 through 12 were awarded the Bronze Medal-average between 80-84%. 20 students were awarded the Silver Medal-average between 85-89%. 4 students earned an average above 90% and were awarded the Gold Medal. 29 Merit awards were distributed and 61 Citizenship and Participation awards were bestowed upon deserving students. The highest award given during the ceremony were the Academic Achievement Plaques. This year Lindsay Below, Katie Byatte, Tyler MacDougall, and Vicky Schaefer were the hard working individuals who received this honour. Finally the Kara MacDonald-Wolochatiuk Award was given to Bernie McDonell and Vicky Schaefer who demonstrated athletic ability and academic achievement. Congratulations to all recipients.

St. Andrew's Day

The entire school displayed their Scottish pride at the St. Andrews Day activities. It began with a plaid-count, followed by trivia activities; Mr. Power's grade 10 science class won a pizza party for wearing the most plaid, and Mr. Rorabeck's grade 11 class won two bags of Scottish toffee for answering the Trivia Contest correctly. Our magnificent annual assembly was held in the morning, replete with an Ode to the Haggis, Scottish pipers, drummers, and our own McCulloch Dancers! After lunch the students enjoyed a dance with live Celtic music throughout the afternoon.

Frostbite 2006 - Char-Lan's Talent Show

Randy and Jordan work their technical magic.

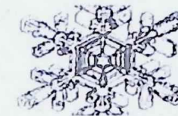

O NO! AN ALIEN FROM MARS!!!!
O WAIT! Its just Mr. Blois's second cousin, twice removed.

Ali Pearson makes her debut singing performance. A bit nervous at first, she left us breathless.

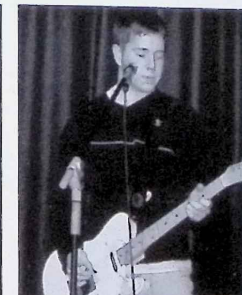

Tracy, Mat and Curtis got the show hopping with their song "I am."

Daisy Duck has taken over Mat Bell's head. This performance started strange and didn't let up!

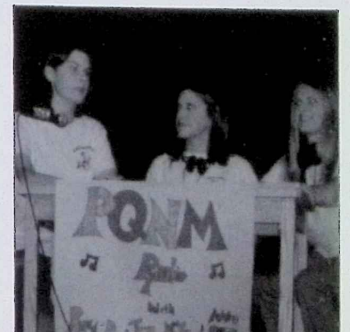

Be my "Valentine"

Play something country, Andrew.

Lindsay, Alisha, and Yasmine sang "Notice Me," and being very brave, they sung it acapella (That's "without accompaniment").

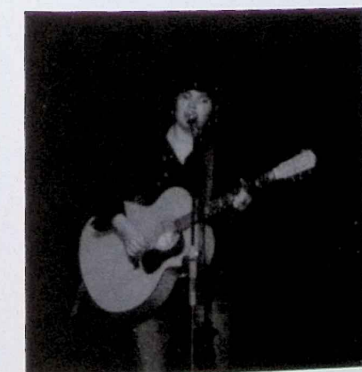

"This is PQMN radio with Jen MacG, Ray D, and Ashley ROHR!!"

Char-Lan raised over $900 for the Free The Children charity

Blond Roots made their debut with guitar accompaniment by Tracy

Emily Carr a recent graduate of GD came and played some country for us.

Noel Landon playing a guitar medley.

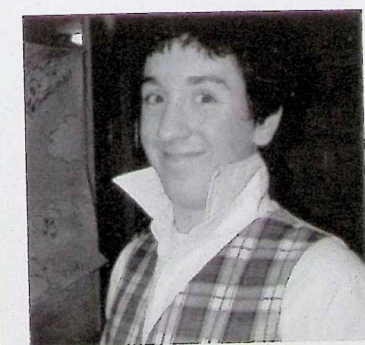

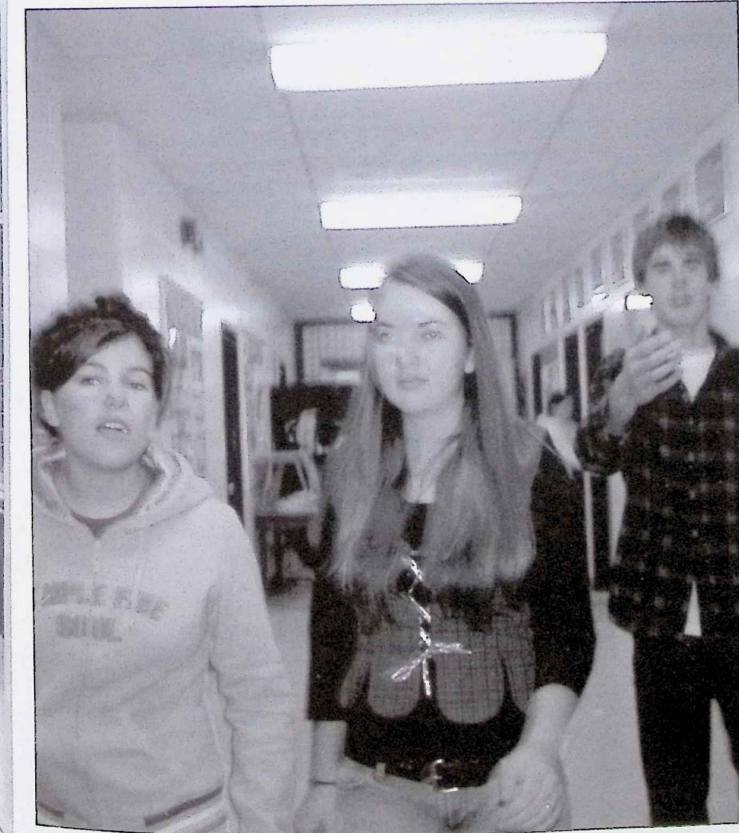

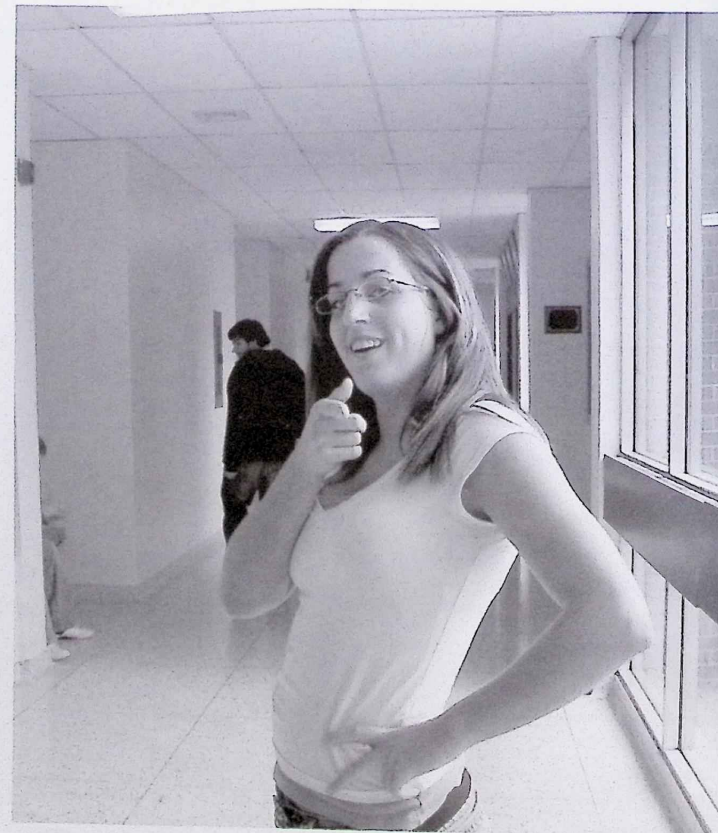

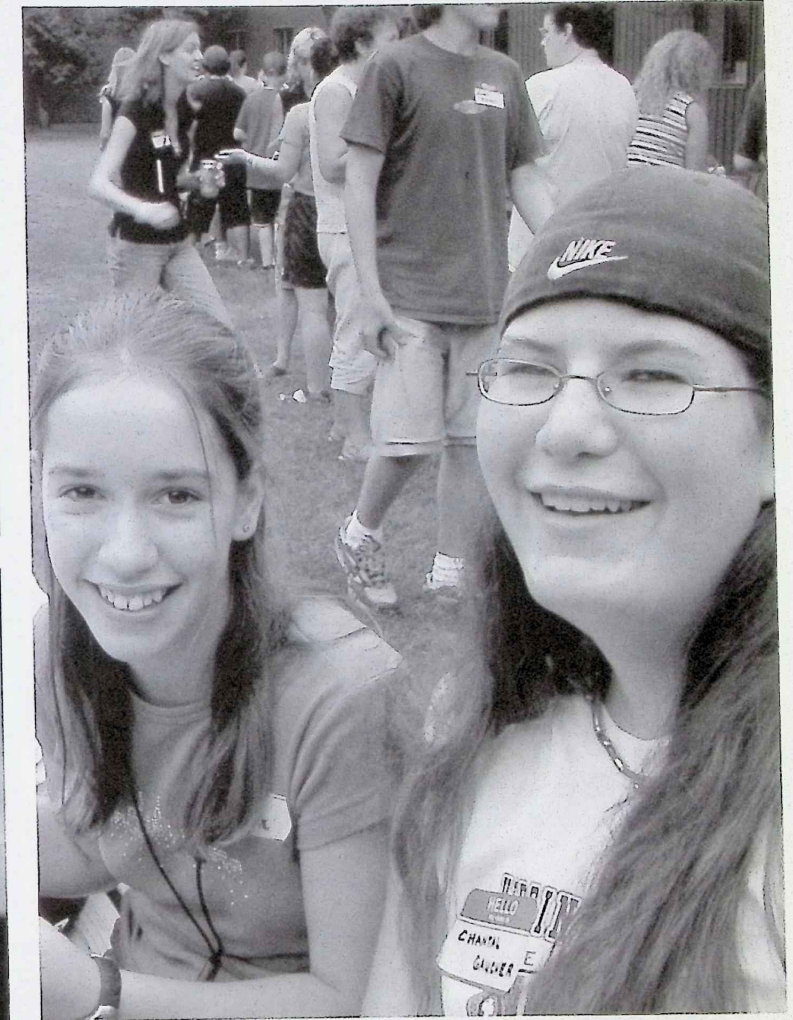

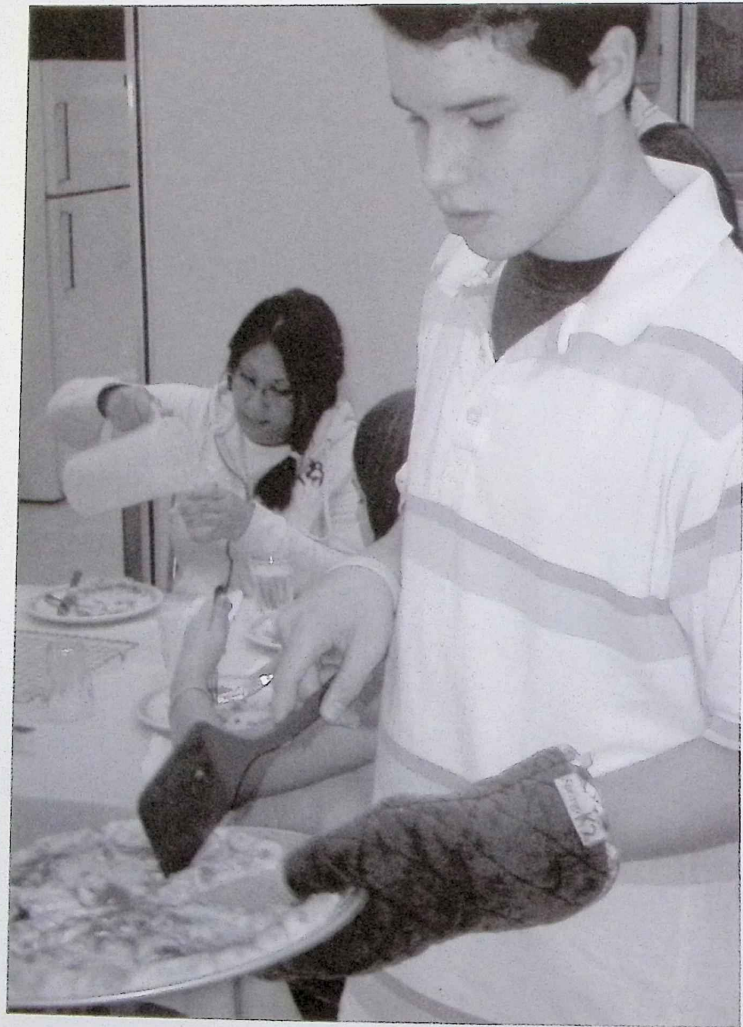

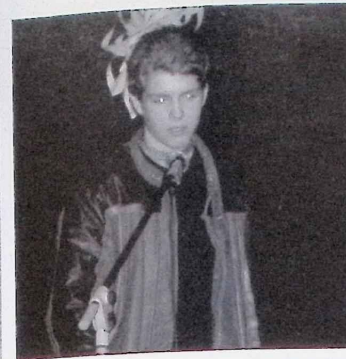

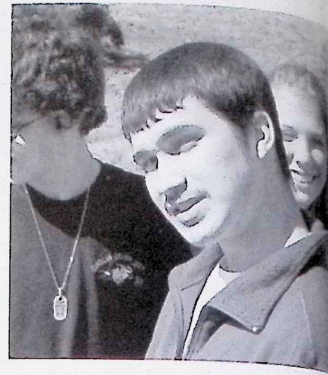

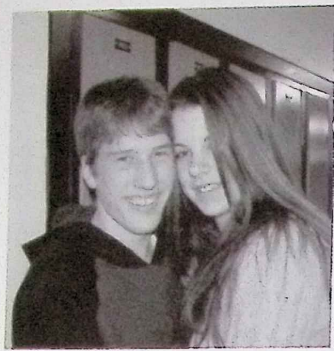

"BANANAS, BANANAS."

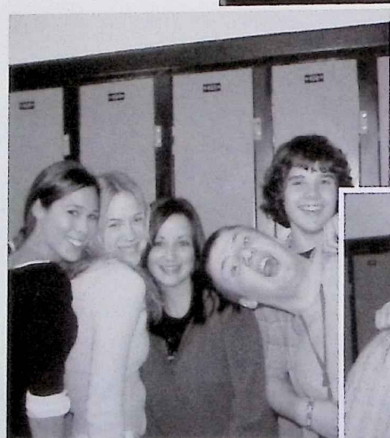

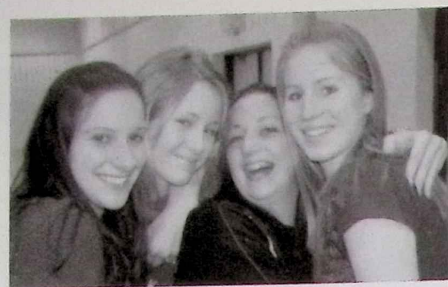

FTC is concerned with the plight of children in developing countries. We work to raise awareness and funds to combat child poverty and exploitation. Our club's greatest accomplishment to date has been the construction of the Princess Pacha School in Ecuador. We are now working towards raising money to construct another school in Sierra Leone. Every Christmas, we organise an Angel Gift Tree for the local community. Together, we can Free the Children!

○○○○ BASKETBALL

The members of the senior girls basketball team (in no particular order) include Jessie Cattanaach, Meagan Brown, Sapphire Vanloon, Kelsey Thomson, Vanes McDonald, Ashley Phillips, Christina Julien, Vicky Schaefer, Becky Kirkby, Kelly Lynch and Christina Russell.

*I Think I Can
I KNOW I Can*

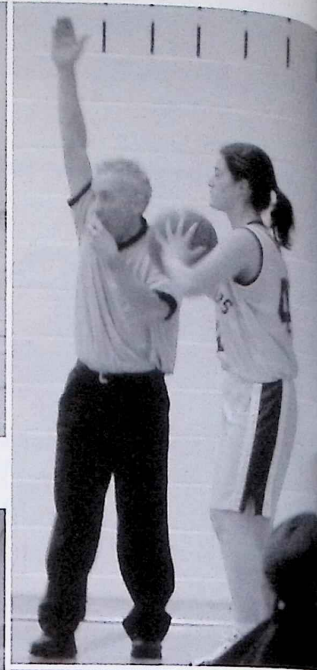

On the Left of this page we have our Senior Girls Basketball team. On the upper right our Crusaders are cheering and planning the next strategic move. Middle right is Vanessa MacDonald blocking a shot from the defensing team. Lower right we have the crusaders doing what they do best defending our Crusader title.

Senior Girls Basket Ball

Hey Char - Lan, Char - Lan fight, boogie down alright, alright. Come on Girls, kick some B - Ball butt.

Carnival week allows for plenty of well deserved student run activities. This year a student v.s. teacher broomball game was added to the week of fun times and big smiles.

Don Blackadder chomps at the bit to score a few more goals.

Ian McIntosh takes a few slippery strides to challenge the soon to be victorious teachers

Broomball

Students Suffer Another Defeat at the Hands of the Staff!

Our senior girls Basketball team made it to EOSSA this past season, way to go girls.

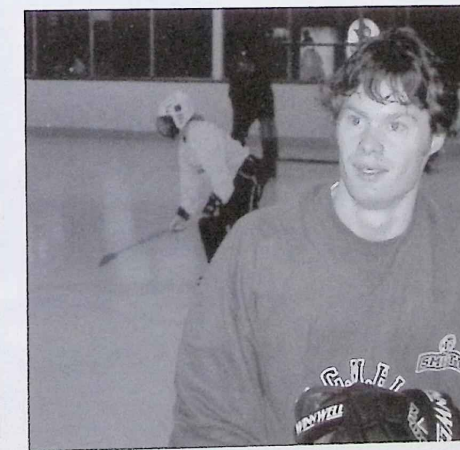

The team consisted of:

Megan Brown
Jessie Cattanch
Amanda Girling
Becky Kirby
Venessa MacDonald
Ashley Phillip
Christina Russell
Vicky Schafer
Kelsey Thompson
Sapphire VanLoon

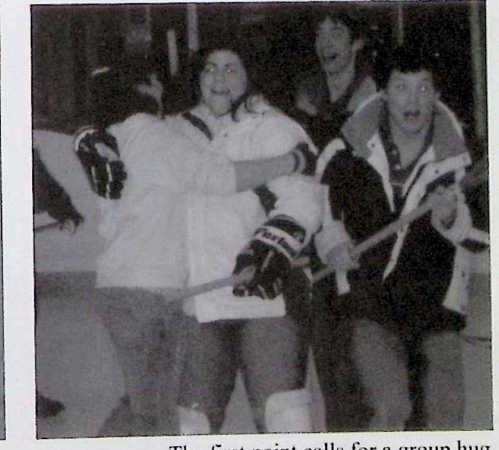

Dylan runs for his life to maintain his lead.

Time Out, as players catch their breath.

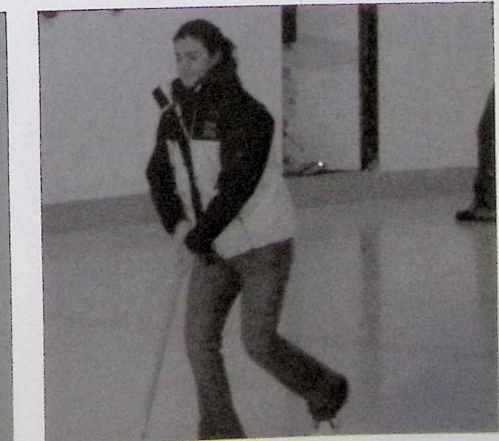

Rory Blackadder, staff powerhouse.

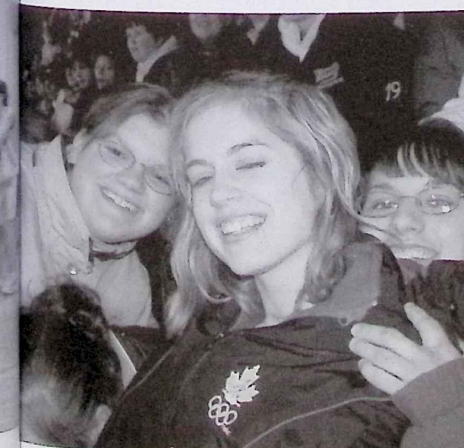

The first point calls for a group hug.

Unfortunately for the pumped up students, age & wisdom trampled youth & beauty once again, leaving the students to wallow in the dust of yet another teacher led victory.

Christina runs to score another one.

Kassia hams it up during the game.

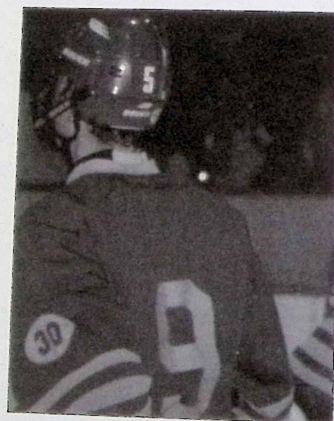

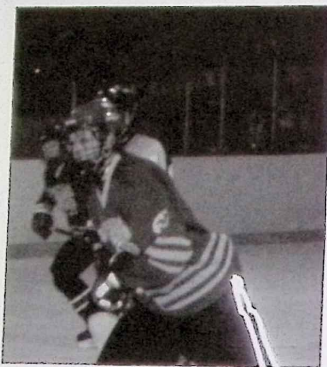

Ashley Phillips tries to score a point for Char-Lan but misses.

Boys Hockey

At the Jim Hill Memorial Tournament our Boys Hockey team conquered our rival school Glengarry District High School with a score of 10-6.

"This was our inaugural year in the league. Our team had a great season. We finished 3rd overall. In the play-offs we lost in O.T. in the finals. On behalf of our team I would like to thank all those who supported us."

Girls Hockey

"This year's girl's hockey team was one of the best hockey teams Char-Lan has produced since the program began four years ago. With new talent coming in and old talent preparing to leave for new challenges, this year's team was successful both on and off the ice."
-Kelsey Thomson

Kristen MacDonald and Carolyn MacCullough take over the booth and keep score for our Girls Hockey team.

Free The Children

Activities 2005-2006

To get our Chapter running, Free the Children members handed out water to the participants at the Raisin River Running Race. Donations from this event, which was held during the Williamstown Fair, amounted to $815.00.

For the sixth year, Flowergrams "to someone special from someone special" were sold for National Child Day. Approximately 800 fresh-cut carnations with accompanying messages generated a profit of approximately $450.00. In order to raise awareness about National Child Day on November 20, morning announcements included a listing of rights from the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of the Child.

During November, Chris Delaney, the International Marketing Director for Free the Children, came to speak at Char-Lan. He shared his story of overcoming adversity, challenges and making positive choices in his motivational talk to the students.

For the Christmas season, our Chapter decorated an Angel Tree with the first names, ages and Christmas wishes of a number of area children associated with the local Children's Aid Society. The "angels" literally flew away as students and members of St. Andrew's United Church selected over 90 "angels" from the Angel Tree.

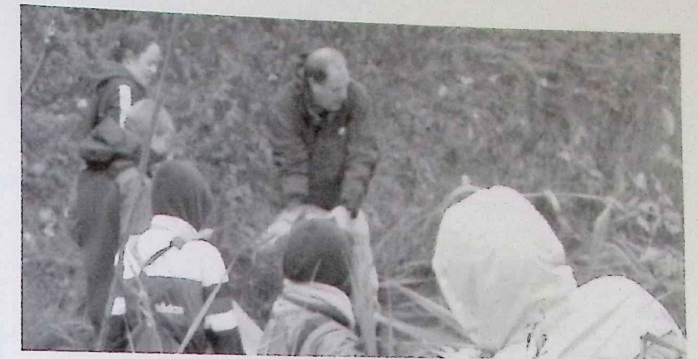

The Char-Lan Frostbite Talent Show which held on Friday, February 10, show-cased a variety of talent from the community and school. This event raised over $900.00.

* Our Chapter is pleased to announce that we have raised $6500.00 for the Brick by Brick School Building Program. Private donations from the community and a generous $1000.00 donation from the MacGregor Investment at St. Andrew's United Church has enabled our Chapter to start building a school for the children in Sierra Leone.*

The Char-Lan Fields

In the Char-Lan soccer fields
Where the daisies and green grass grow
Between the crosses row on row
And the Seagulls still squawking fly
Scarce heard amid the crowd below

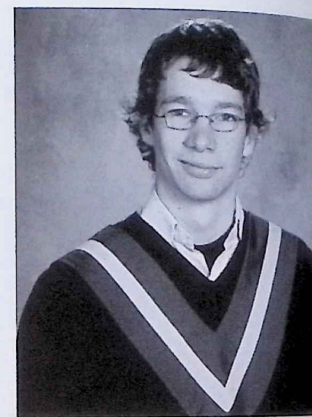

We are the grads, short days ago
we laughed, felt Dawn & watched the embarrassment glow
We loved and were loved and now we are the grads
of Char-Lan District High

Take up our quarrel with the foe to you from graduating hands we through the torch, to beat the Gaels, and hold your head high
If ye forget, that we were here we shall lose no sleep, but we'll drink a few beer though still the daisies and the green grass grow in the Char-Lan D.H.S. soccer fields

Eurotrip '05

The in flight movie was a bore
I had to listen to the guy beside me snore.
Thirty hours with no sleep,
Nothing worked not even counting sheep.
In the airport we did wait,
Eric and Sarah were very late.
We gathered up our bags and got on the bus,
Everyone settled in without a fuss.
We got on the tube to see Big Ben,
That's where I purchased my souvenir pen.
I looked for a pub and what did I see,
The Leicester Arms welcoming me.
A few tequilas later I could've sworn I was dead,
I went back to the hotel and passed out in my bed.
Being late for the bus was always a pain,
It felt like I had been hit by a train.
We saw a few castles we saw a few sheep,
Standing there I felt like little Bo-Peep.
Some crazy antics went on at night,
Meagan gave us all quite a fright.
On the one night we were banned from the drink,
We watched a "bad" movie that made us think.
Sober nights were not for us,
So we got drunk and stumbled onto the bus.
George drove us all around town,
Rarely ever did I see a frown.
The hostel was a great disgrace,
There were unrecognizable stains all over the place.
The sheets were gross so we slept on the floor,
Celya fell out of the shower into the door.
Leaving Europe wasn't easy to do,
But it was something we all had to go through.
In the airport we sang Home for a Rest,
Because we were not at our best.

The School Feud

"I have no feud with Mr. Schulz. He is a competent, patriotic gentleman, and I do not know why he feels it has anything to do with me." - Mr. Power

This year, Char-Lan had the great honour of being graced by the presence of the British-born Mr. Power. Our history teacher, Mr. Schulz, decorates his room with the flags of many countries, along with some provinces. The Vice Principal was quick to discover and correct the fact that Mr. Schulz had had the British flag upside-down for years. However, as he did so, he felt the need to put the German flag upside-down as well. Mr. Schulz, being of German heritage, took this as a comical act of offense, and so sparked the School Feud.

This patriotic competition continued, as Mr. Schulz replaced the British flag with the Scottish one, hiding the flag of Great Britain under one of his numerous maps. Changing his screensaver to "Sink Britannia," Mr. Schulz went further, and invaded Mr. Power's office, leaving behind a German recruitment poster, and the German flag in felt pen on his desktop calendar. Mr. Power retaliated by leaving a note on the map of Europe that the history teacher has that read, "All this belongs to Great Britain. I OWN THIS!" Finding the British flag after much efforts of searching, Mr. Power exposed it, and replaced the German flag with a poster. The German flag was found the following day upside-down on the outside of the glass windows down the library corridor, a place locked and therefore accessible only to the

The title is taken from the chorus of Rule Britannia by Thomas Augustine Arne. ## The School Feud, cont'd

Mr. Schulz then took it upon himself to find a new place for his British flag. That day, it was moved to the ceiling before being placed backwards and upside-down on the far wall for all to see. In revenge, British flags were put on Mr. Schulz's mailbox. At the time of writing, the most recent event is the Health Inspection that Mr. Power conducted on Mr. Schulz's classroom, during which he attempted to nail him for the British flag being upside-down and backwards, and having an unreachable cord as a tripping hazard, among other things.

Though both teachers are good-natured men, there is no doubt that these little comical indulgences will continue, if only for the laughs it provides. As to the entire thing, Mr. Schulz comments, "The English are 2 cast-off tribes -- the Anglos and the Saxons. We threw them out 1000 years ago," a quote that is only fitting for the school history teacher.

However, when asked about the whole affair, Mr. Power said, "I have no feud with Mr. Schulz. He is a competent, patriotic gentleman, and I do not know why he feels it has anything to do with me." How true this is, is uncertain, though, as he has been witnessed performing some acts
